By the Associated Press.

HONGKONG, Feb. 21.—Nine persons, including a British Indian policeman, were killed today when Japanese war planes bombed a railroad station inside the borders of this British Crown colony.

Sir Geoffrey Northcote, Governor of Hongkong, after a personal investigation, sent a report to London and requested the British Consul-General in Canton to protest "vigorously" to the Japanese Government.

The raid led to the influx of several thousand refugees from the heavily bombed Chinese area adjacent to the Hongkong border. In Shumchun village, just outside British territory, it was estimated that the planes had caused more than 100 casualties among civilians.

The bombers also demolished a railway car in which a score of British policemen were sheltered near the station.

British military authorities said the low-flying Japanese planes first dropped bombs in Chinese territory, then far from the western border of the British colony, and then flew over the border, unleashing more missiles on the Lowu station, 18 miles from the heart of Hongkong.

A mixed passenger and freight train on the Hongkong-Kowloon railroad two miles within the colony border narrowly escaped destruction when a Japanese bomb landed near the tracks, shattering windows of the cars. The passengers were reported uninjured.

BRITAIN ORDERS
'STRONG' PROTEST

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Great Britain today sent a "vigorous" protest to Japan over the bombing of Hongkong territory by Japanese planes.

The Foreign Office radioed Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British Ambassador to Tokyo, to protest immediately to the Japanese Government in the "strongest" terms.

Officials said Craigie also was directed to press for a reply to the British note of Jan. 14, asking for definition of Japanese intentions toward Western Powers in regard to maintenance of an open door to trade in China. The United States on Dec. 31 and France on Jan. 19 made similar representations to Japan.

Japanese long has disputed Japan's apparent intention to restrict foreign commerce in China and Manchoukuo and form these two countries into a single, virtually closed economic bloc with Japan.

Japanese conquest of Canton Oct. 21 brought to the fore the question of the future of Hongkong, which has been South China's major outlet to the sea. The crown colony was ceded by China to Great Britain in 1841. A British naval and military station of first-class importance, Hongkong began as an island colony, but was extended to the mainland south of Canton through cession of the Kowloon Peninsula to Britain and leasing of a portion of Chinese territory. Its area is 366 square miles.

The British Government also is understood to be displeased with Tokyo's delay in explaining fully Japanese intentions with regard to the island of Hainan, off the French Indo-China coast, where Japanese troops landed Feb. 10.

Japan backed France in a vigorous inquiry into the Japanese action at Hainan. The United States also made an inquiry. The three Western Powers were told that the occupation of the island was a matter of military expediency.

Officials appeared annoyed by Japan's payment of its bill for damages in connection with the sinking of the United States gunboat Panay by Japanese planes in the Yangtze River Dec. 12, 1937, while similar demands with Britain were delayed. Japan paid claims totaling $2,000,000 in connection with the Panay incident.

BARCELONA CHEERS
FRANCO, PARADING

Triumphal Entry Surprise to City Until Holiday Is Proclaimed.

By the Associated Press.

BARCELONA, Feb. 21.—Gen. Francisco Franco made a triumphal entry today into Barcelona, captured Jan. 26.

He was accompanied by Gen. Fidel Davila, commander-in-chief of his northern army, and was escorted by a guard of Moors. The cheers of 750,000 persons greeted the conqueror.

Standing on the canopied balcony of a mansion on Diagonal boulevard, Franco received the salute of 50,000 men representing all seven of the army corps which fought in the Catalan campaign, beginning Dec. 23.

During the ceremony, 250 planes soared overhead.

The public was not informed about Franco's entry until all arrangements had been completed shortly before 9:45 a. m. Then a holiday was announced. Shortly afterward the city was decorated with red and gold Nationalist banners, and bands began to assemble.

The ceremony ended with a mammoth parade.

MERCURY TOUCHES 12 ABOVE WITH INCH OF SNOW HERE

City on One Side of Cold Wave
Which Sent Temperature to 4 Below at Clinton, Mo.

Cold weather from the Northwest caused a fall of 13 degrees in temperature overnight, sending the mercury to 12 at 8 o'clock this morning. There was a one-inch snowfall. St. Louis was on the south and east side of a cold wave which sent the thermometer to 4 degrees below zero at Clinton, in the western part of the State, and caused zero readings at Kansas City and Columbia.

The cold weather extended into Texas and Northern Louisiana. A slow fall in temperature began here at 5 p. m. yesterday when the reading was 25. Snow began falling at 7:30 o'clock and was still coming down this morning.

The forecast is for fair and continued cold weather tonight, with the lowest temperature 14 degrees. Fair weather and slowly rising temperature are predicted for tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

PRAGUE, Feb. 21.—How some Czechs feel about Lord Runciman, Britain's unofficial mediator in last fall's Sudeten German dispute before the Munich settlement, was shown yesterday in court.

A 26-year-old man accused of severely beating another, told the Court the latter had called him "a Runciman."

The Court gave the defendant 10 months at hard labor but suspended sentence.

DEAL CO. DICTATES DEFENSE LETTERS ON MANHASSETT

Sends to Sub-Contractors Draft 'Against Attitude of Certain Realty Interests and Newspapers.'

FOR CONGRESSMEN
AND HEAD OF FHA

Construction Firm to Collect and Mail Copies Itself—'Puts Me on Spot,'
One Builder Says.

H. B. Deal & Co., Inc., construction firm which promoted and built the 354-family Manhassett Village apartment group in West Richmond Heights with a $1,600,000 Government-guaranteed loan, distributed yesterday among its sub-contractors on the job copies of a letter protesting "vigorously against the attitude of certain real estate interests and newspapers," with instructions to the sub-contractors to rewrite the letter on their own letterheads, for mailing to Missouri Senators and Congressmen and FHA Administrator Stewart McDonald.

Before the copies were sent out the sub-contractors received a telephone call from Miss Mildred Gluckman, secretary of the Deal firm and vice-president and treasurer of Manhassett Village Corporation, who bought the 214-acre apartment site for $39,350 and sold it to the corporation for $171,000.

She Prepares Letters.

After she obtained consent of the sub-contractors to prepare the letters as directed, another employee of the Deal firm dictated copies of the letter, typewritten on plain paper. He left further instructions that the model was not to be copied verbatim, but used as a basis for new letters. He was to return today for the completed letters, together with business envelopes of the sub-contractors, which he said would be mailed by the Deal company.

One sub-contractor employed on the Manhassett job, who declined to permit use of his name, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter he had agreed to prepare the letters as directed, although he would prefer to have refused since he disagreed with the contents. "But I'm on the spot—they're good customers and I can't afford to lose the business," he explained.

The Model Letter.

Text of the model letter follows: "Hon. Bennett Champ Clark, U. S. Senator, Washington, D. C. "Hon. Harry S. Truman, U. S. Senator, Washington, D. C. "Hon. C. Arthur Anderson, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. "Hon. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. "Hon. John J. Cochran, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. "Mr. Stewart McDonald, FHA Administrator, Washington, D. C.

"It seems to us the time has come to protest vigorously against the attitude of certain real estate interests and newspapers who are attempting to discount and discourage the construction of such projects as Manhassett and Lucas-Hunt Village.

Pleads Need of Housing.

"We need housing in St. Louis regardless of what is said to the contrary. New housing is needed in the county, where people of moderate circumstances can get away from the smoke, and where fresh air and sunshine will be available.

"Then again, we need construction business in St. Louis—which needs help so badly. We also need payroll and wages for workmen, who for so long a time have been without and who have in numbers been on relief rolls. These men want to work, and the material houses all need and want business, and we have these commendable projects hurs and injured and to have others so badly needed, stopped on account of the selfish interests of a few, is just too much for us to stand.

"We ask you to support the Federal Housing Administration in its grand work and not allow selfish newspaper publicity and selfish interests to interfere with that business and work we so much need.

"Thank you in advance for your support.

"Very truly yours,"

The sub-contractor who told the Post-Dispatch about the letter composed ruefully: "If they weren't coming back for the letters to mail, I probably would have prepared a copy as directed, mail it to the Deal company as a sample.

A. F. L. CLEANERS'

Workers' Leader Says.

PRINCIPAL ISSUE

Drivers Who Refused to Pass Pickets.

Employees of the Lungstras Dyeing & Cleaning Co., the largest cleaners in the city, went out on strike today after negotiations over a new contract between the company and the Cleaners and Dye House Workers' Union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, had been broken off.

Ray Krueger, business agent of the union, said that 90 per cent of the approximately 300 employees at the company's plant at 2701 South Vandeventer avenue had joined the strike. Robert Lungstras, secretary-treasurer of the company, declined to estimate the number on strike, but said "we're operating as usual."

The union stated that a majority of the women employed in the company's 56 stores throughout the city had also joined the strike. The company's 22 drivers, members of the Teamsters' Union, refused to pass the picket line set up at the plant.

Closed Shop Is Chief Issue.

The main point of difference between the union and the company is the closed shop, until the company's plant at 2701 South Vandeventer avenue had joined the strike. Robert Lungstras, secretary-treasurer of the company, declined to estimate the number on strike, but said "we're operating as usual."

Lungstras said the company quit the exchange "of economic warfare" added that his company paid "as much in dues as the other 35 members together."

Krueger, pointing out that the union had closed shop contracts with about 30 more cleaners who are members of the exchange, said the union would stick by its insistence on a closed shop.

"We figure that if the contract is good enough for 65 other cleaners," he said, "why should we give Mr. Lungstras a different contract?"

Insists Contract Apply to Women.

The union has also insisted that the women employees at the stores, most of whom it claims as members, be included under the terms of the contract.

Lungstras issued a statement through his attorney that the company would sign a contract recognizing the union as sole collective bargaining agent, but that it would not agree to the closed shop or to the inclusion of the store employees, which it regards as "office and clerical help," in the contract.

New drivers to replace those who would not pass the picket line would be hired immediately, Lungstras said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. The drivers on strike are members of the Laundry, Linen, Cleaning and Dye House Chauffeurs and Helpers Union, Local 366, which is also an A. F. of L. affiliate.

Both the union and the company stated that wages, hours and working conditions did not enter into the dispute.

"If you once give up the closed shop," Krueger said, "you don't know what else they'll try to give you."

WEATHER MEN 85 PCT. RIGHT

Stable Periods Make Up for Rapid Changes, Bureau Head Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Weather Bureau's predictions for 24 to 36 hours are correct between 85 and 90 per cent of the time.

In an address to the National Aviation Forum, F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the Weather Bureau, said today those percentages hold true despite the fact changes in weather conditions are so rapid that a forecast for the next 12 hours is risky. "Stagnant" weather, permitting forecasts for days ahead, even things up, he explained.

25 PERSONS INDICTED
IN $1,000,000 FRAUD

Accused of Misusing Mails in Connection With Oil Royalties Certificates.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A Federal grand jury today indicted Albert H. Bramson of Cleveland, 24 other individuals and three corporations on mail fraud and conspiracy charges, in connection with the sale of oil royalties certificates.

The 12-count indictment accused the defendants of operating a scheme to defraud investors of about $1,000,000.

Among the defendants was Benjamin West Bunker, said by Assistant United States Attorney William P. Maloney to have been used by Bramson as "window dressing."

Maloney said that at least 12 persons named in the indictment had criminal records and that a majority were at present fugitives from justice.

He said Bramson dominated the three corporations indicted—Reliance Underwriting Corporation, Commonwealth Trust Co., a Delaware corporation, and Underwriters' Management Corporation.

Maloney said that Bunker, under the guidance of Bramson, opened pretentious stock trading offices in Wall Street, and that when investors came to the offices, they were met by a corps of high-pressure telephone salesmen for the Bunker enterprises induced the investors to sell their gold securities and purchase "Royalty Investment Trust certificates."

Foreign Office Says.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The quarrel between France and Iran over the words Shah and cat has been settled.

Foreign Ministry officials said diplomatic relations, broken Dec. 30 by Iran, would be resumed soon. The Shah had called his Minister home in protest against the use by the French press of the word "shah," which means "cat," and "cat" sounds like "Shah." He objected particularly to photographs of a Paris cat show with references to "His Majesty the Cat."

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21.—President Roosevelt, aboard the cruiser Houston, sailed leisurely eastward through the West Indies today to observe the navy's war game testing the defense of the Panama Canal.

"Fleet Problem 20," which began at 6 a. m. yesterday with preliminary scouting operations, found the Houston and the escort destroyer Warrington in Cuban waters. At 10:30 a. m. the Chief Executive paid his first visit to Guantanamo Bay.

After steaming by the naval station, the Houston continued in the general direction of the Virgin Islands. Anagoda passage, in that vicinity, was expected to be one of the principal points of attack by the "white" fleet in the Atlantic. The Houston is a unit of the "black" defenders.

"While proceeding at leisurely speed to the eastward to join the fleet war game," said a radio message from the Houston received at temporary White House headquarters here last night, "the President took the opportunity this morning (Monday) to visit Guantanamo Bay."

"The Houston entered at 10:30 a. m. and steamed slowly past the naval station to the upper part of the bay, turned, and left the harbor without anchoring.

"Fleet Problem 20 commenced at 6 o'clock this morning, and during the next few days the President on the Houston will proceed to such point or points as will place him within easy steaming distance of the contact positions as they develop during the preliminary scouting operations."

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 21.—Unable to land in a dense fog, eight United States navy planes were wrecked and two pilots killed on a routine training flight last night. Rain washed away the fog at dawn today, disclosing the toll to officers of the Pensacola Naval Air Station.

Six student flyers escaped by bailing out in the darkness in their first parachute jumps.

Four pilots landed safely in Southern Alabama, one of them with a passenger.

Lieut. G. S. Presser, a Brazilian navy officer receiving regular training here, was killed when his plane crashed and burned at Corry Field, where land planes are quartered. (A law approved by Congress last summer permits training of foreign aviators in United States service schools.)

The body of Lieut. N. M. Ostergren of Fort Peck, Mont., was found in his wrecked and burned plane near McDavid, Fla., about 25 miles north of Pensacola.

Besides Lieut. Presser, another Brazilian officer, Lieut. A. C. T. Horta of Rio de Janeiro was in the group. He leaped to safety.

Board of Inquiry to Meet.

Lieut. J. F. Monroe, aid to the commandant of the station, said a board of inquiry would convene today.

Lieutenant-Commander A. J. Isbell, commander of Flight Squadron 2, a recipient of the Schiff air safety trophy, was named head of the board.

Not announced pending arrival of Commandant Capt. Ray Fitch, who was en route here from New Orleans.

Nine advanced students, one of them carrying his brother as a passenger, and three instructors took off early last night for a routine after-dark flight. Not long after they were aloft, a soupy fog rolled in from the Gulf of Mexico. The well-lighted landing field was blotted out. Thousands of feet high, the flyers were faced with the choice of hunting an airport that was not fog-bound or flying until their gasoline was exhausted and then jumping.

Four Ships Outrun Fog.

Three instructors and a student took headed north to outrun the fog. Lieut. W. G. Jackson of Viana, Ill., Lieut. J. H. Brett of Savannah, Ga., and Cadet J. E. W. Whitener of High Point, N. C., landed safely at the Altmore (Ala.) airport. Cadet A. C. McDonough of Newark, N. J., made a safe landing at Greenville, Ala., with a brother, Army Reserve Pilot F. E. McDonough, as a passenger.

The six student pilots who feached ground safely by parachute jumps were:

Lieut. Horta, Lieut. E. G. Osborn, St. Helena, Cal.; Cadet G. E. Chalmers, Rutland, Vt.; Lieut. Thomas D. Cummins, Washington, D. C.; Cadet C. W. Harbart, Bristol, W. Va.; Lieut. Richard E. Harmer, Seattle.

All the planes but one crashed within 10 miles of Pensacola. The ship from which the instructors fell into the back yard of the home of Mrs. S. R. Likes at Myrtle Grove, a suburb. Another sank in Escambia Bay. Four of the planes, whose pilots jumped, fell on the Government reservation.

"Just One of Those Things."

Lieut. Monroe said in discussing the accident. "It's just one of those things."

PITTMAN RIDICULES CHAMBERLAIN AND U. S. ISOLATIONISTS

Chairman of Senate Foreign Relations Committee Denounces Dictator Nations on Radio.

APPEASING THEM

'IMMORAL FAILURE'

Calls for Stand in Defense of American Rights 'Throughout Universe' as Way to Avoid War.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Senator Pittman (Dem.), Nevada, denouncing dictator states as intent on dominating the world, said last night that Americans would die if necessary to preserve the things they "consider worth more than life."

Ridiculing the British policy of appeasement and the American isolationists, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called for a firm stand in defense of American rights "throughout the universe."

Such a policy, he said in a speech on the Washington Star radio forum, was most likely to keep the United States out of war.

As for attempts at appeasement, by giving way to demands of dictator states, he declared:

Condemns Appeasement Policy.

"The policy of appeasement has not only been unsuccessful and ultimately destructive, but has been immoral. It is evident that a person can die but once, and the period of life is limited, and it is far better that he die a few days earlier for Christianity, justice and liberty than that he live a little longer in cowardice and degeneracy."

"Austria, since the World War, adopted and practiced a policy of isolation. Behold Austria! Ethiopia practiced the policy of isolation. Note the condition of Ethiopia. Czechoslovakia, under the rules of the League of Nations, practiced the policy of isolation. Czechoslovakia's territory has been divided up, its government destroyed, and its spirit of democracy annihilated!"

"Witness China. No people and no Government ever practiced more sincerely the doctrine of isolation!"

American Defense Policy.

Discussing the policy of defense he favors, he said:

"This policy includes the protection of a country's territory, and the rights of its nationals throughout the universe. It holds that such protection shall be accomplished, first, through every established, peaceful, legal, and legitimate means; second, through every legal resistance to encroachments upon the integrity of a nation's territory and the rights of its nationals; and third, and lastly, through the use of physical force if every other means has failed, to successfully defend its territory and the rights of its nationals."

Discussing Adolf Hitler's future course, Pittman said:

"Does anyone doubt that Hitler has in his program the domination of Ukraine? In fact, does anyone doubt that Hitler has the domination of Siberia in mind? If so, simply read his book, 'Mein Kampf'. Did not the British policy of appeasement surrender to the mercy of Hitler not only Czechoslovakia but Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Turkey? What is there to stop his domination, if not conquest, of those countries? What can Holland and Denmark do with regard to the demands of Hitler?"

Ambition of Japan.

Pittman then made a reference to Mussolini, which seemed to hint that the Italian dictator might not stay with his partner of the Rome-Berlin axis. He said:

"For the time being we will pass Mussolini. He has militarized Italy to the fullest extent. He has a tremendous military force. He is by force of circumstances—and may continue to be—in the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo axis."

The Japanese, he said, were bent on "domination of Eastern Asia, including the islands of the Pacific. They are now taking possession of and fortifying the island of Hainan, only 700 miles from the Philippine Islands."

Moreover, he said, the three "dictatorial Powers" are "preparing for the domination of Latin America."

"Of course," he said, "this penetration into Latin America does not become pertinent, and will not become pertinent until and unless these totalitarian Powers have obtained sufficient domination in Europe and Asia to permit them to move in force against Latin America. Any reasonable man will say that is possible. Any reasonable man would say we should protect against such possibility."

Pittman said President Roosevelt's policy was to avoid entangling alliances, but to refuse the "oppressed governments" no aid that the United States may legally give.

Replying to those who say the President's foreign policy is endangering the peace of the country, he declared: "President Roosevelt, under the approved policy of our Government and the Neutrality Act, has no intention to lead us

WRECKED IN FOG; TWO MEN KILLED

French Sources Hail Speech as End of U. S. Isolationism.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—French diplomatic circles today welcomed a speech by Senator Pittman (Dem.), Nevada, against totalitarian states as another indication of the ending of the traditional isolationist attitude of the United States.

The Foreign Ministry withheld official comment pending receipt of a full text of the radio address, but sources close to the Foreign Office were particularly interested in Pittman's statement that the American people "are not afraid to die for Christianity, morality, justice and liberty."

They pointed out that, despite what Pittman called the "immoral" policy of appeasement, to which France is a party, American and French ideals are the same.

German Press Attacks Pittman Speech as 'Agitation.'

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—The German press gave extensive display today to the radio speech of Senator Pittman (Dem.), Nevada, against totalitarian states and a policy of appeasement. Nachtausgabe headlines its article "American Agitation Now Also Against Chamberlain."

Lokalanzeiger's comment was: "The (Pittman) wants nothing to do with objective things; he wants only to agitate. He paints the end of the world on a wall and believes Americans will forget through such sensational fables the cankers of Roosevelt internal policies. The defense of his territory and the rights of its nationals."

Discussing Adolf Hitler's future course, Pittman said:

3 RUMANIAN IRON GUARD PLOTTERS SENT TO PRISON

They Confess Scheme to Seize National Gold Reserve for 'Eventual Government.'

BUCHAREST, Feb. 21.—A military court today imposed sentences of six months' imprisonment and fines of 10,000 lei ($2,500) each on three members of the outlawed Fascist Iron Guard who confessed plotting to seize the gold reserve of the Rumanian National Bank.

The prisoners told the court that the object of the plot was "a patriotic effort to seize and preserve the bank's gold for presentation to an eventual Iron Guard government."

BONNET REPORTED TO BOW TO FRANCO ON RECOGNITION

French Minister Said to Withdraw All Conditions and to Be Ready to Send Envoy.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Foreign Minister Bonnet was reported today to have yielded to insurgent Generalissimo Franco by dropping all the conditions which France had sought as preliminary to formal recognition of the Nationalist Government.

France at first sought guarantees from Franco that foreign troops would leave Spain after the war and Spanish Government leaders would not be subject to reprisals, but Franco refused to outline his future policy.

Pushed by Great Britain and anxious to send an Ambassador to Burgos to work against Italian and German influence, Bonnet was said by diplomats to have instructed his semi-official envoy, Senator Leon Berard, to meet Franco's terms.

When Berard returns to Burgos tomorrow from St. Jean de Luz, he is expected to tell the Nationalists that full diplomatic recognition would be forthcoming from France without further discussion.

Ready to Name Envoy, It Is Said. With the British envoy, Sir Robert Hodgson, he is expected to propose the names of French and British Ambassadors for Franco's approval.

The Government was understood to hope that, even though the present negotiations should fail to bring peace, the recognition of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Government might help check his swing toward the side of the Fascist Powers.

Foreign Ministry officials said Berard's report to Bonnet on the negotiations for diplomatic relations with Franco created an "excellent impression."

Berard's next conversation with Gen. Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, Franco's Foreign Minister, was set for tomorrow afternoon at Burgos. Officials expressed the hope the negotiations would be concluded quickly, permitting Berard to return to Paris Thursday.

Cabinet Meeting Delayed. A session of Premier Daladier's Cabinet originally called for today to recognize the insurgents was delayed indefinitely pending the outcome of the negotiations.

The recognition now is expected to be devoid of major guarantees for France and based largely on the alleged settlement of the problems of repatriation of Spanish refugees in France and disposition of arms, munitions and wealth left in France by the Spanish loyalists.

It was acknowledged that some difficulties had been encountered. Insistent that Italian and German forces would leave after the war, Franco was understood to have declined any formal assurances as to his foreign policy.

French request for amnesty to his enemies, ruling that the Spanish Government must surrender unconditionally to make peace.

Reports that Franco had chosen his Fascist brother-in-law, Serrano Suner, as prospective Premier came as Paris newspapers printed a message of "eternal gratitude" from the Generalissimo's Foreign Minister for the friendship of Germany, Italy, Portugal and Japan.

Sent to German Paper. The message, sent to a German periodical, Wille und Macht, by Count Gomez Jordana, added to mild excitement occasioned by the reported choice of Suner.

Suner, Franco's Minister of Interior, is one of the outstanding leaders of the Spanish Fascist Falange and reputedly favors close ties with Italy and Germany.

In expressing gratitude to Germany, Italy, Portugal and Japan, Gomez Jordana called them "National Spain's only true friends in her late hours of need."

MERGER OF TWO BANKS AT JERSEY CITY PROPOSED

Directors Approve Trust Company of New Jersey Absorbing West Bergen Trust Co. By the Associated Press.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 21.—Planes to merge the West Bergen Trust Co. with the Trust Company of New Jersey were announced today by State and Federal banking officials.

The move, following the closing of the New Jersey Title Guarantee & Trust Co., was designed, an official statement said, to strengthen the banking situation in Hudson County.

The West Bergen Bank listed resources of $3,616,643 as of Dec. 31, and the trust company listed its resources as $56,799,311. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation said all deposits, regardless of value, would be protected.

A statement issued by Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Leo T. Crowley, FDIC chairman, and Louis A. Reilly, State Banking Commissioner, said the proposed merger would make the Trust Company of New Jersey the second largest and strongest insured bank in the country.

The directors of both banks approved the merger yesterday, and stockholders must act within 60 days.

Telegrapher for Presidents Dies. SANTA MONICA, Cal., Feb. 21.—John H. Carroll, 82 years old, personal telegrapher for three Presidents—Theodore Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson—died yesterday.

He often told of his associations with Thomas A. Edison and Alexander Graham Bell.

A permanent setup was a question. Franco was said to have filled most of the posts on paper, according to reports reaching Rome, but in installation might not take place until he could make all Spain his.

Bullied at Foreign Office. With other nations stampeding to recognize Franco, however, and Great Britain urging an end to French hesitation, Paris appeared to have no alternative but to follow suit.

United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt called at the Foreign Office yesterday and was reported by French sources to have told Bonnet that although the United States was not ready to recognize Franco, it would not stand in the way of Franco's doing so.

To the new French Ambassador to Burgos would be left the task of attempting to win Franco away from the Rome-Berlin axis and of seeking a basis for settlement of the civil war.

Prospects for peace, which France once hoped to bring simultaneously with recognition of the insurgents, appeared more remote. Spanish sources reported Spanish Premier Juan Negrin had asked President Manuel Azana by telegram again yesterday to return to Government Spain and had met with another rebuff.

Forty-Four Killed in Insurgent Air Raids on Port of Almeria. MADRID, Feb. 21.—Forty-four persons were killed and 110 wounded in six insurgent air raids over the week-end on Almeria, Mediterranean port in Southeastern Spain, belated reports said today.

Five Italian-made planes raided the port of Ganda today, dropping 50 high-explosive and 14 incendiary bombs. Four buildings were wrecked. No casualties were reported.

Increasing Military Activity on Central Spanish Front. HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Front), Feb. 21.—Spanish military dispatches today reported increasing activity on the central front, indicating an insurgent offensive on the last stronghold of the Government was imminent.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco, who entered Barcelona yesterday for the first time since his armies captured the city Jan. 26, was said to be rushing plans for an assault on the Madrid-Valencia line.

FOREST CITY CO. FILES ANSWER TO NLRB COMPLAINT

Says It Was Forced to Employ Industrial Investigators to Keep Informed on Union 'Plots.'

The Forest City Manufacturing Co., in an answer to the complaint of the National Labor Relations Board charging that it violated the Labor Relations Act, asserts it was forced to employ the Industrial Investigating Engineers, Inc., to keep informed on "unlawful plots and designs by the union and its officers."

The answer, made public today, charges that the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union since 1931 assaulted hundreds of women and girls employed by the Forest City Co., and called a strike at St. Louis and Collinsville garment plants of the firm in 1935, although only five employees were members of the union.

It is further charged that the union plotted to dynamite the plants and the home of an officer of the firm, stripped clothing off non-union employees on the street and in street cars and cost the company thousands of dollars in providing protection for employees.

Denies Warning Employees. The company, whose headquarters is at 1627 Washington avenue, denies that it warned employees against joining the union, that it threatened to close both plants if employees joined or opened purses of employees to see whether they contained union dues books.

Officers of the firm are not forbidden by law to urge employees against joining the union, the answer asserts.

The company alleges that one woman employee, who, the union charged, quit her job because of intimidation, acted as "finger girl," pointing out employees to be beaten during the 1935 strike. For that reason, the answer says, she incurred the hatred of fellow employees and quit Jan. 15, 1936, after an arbitrator ruled against her.

Note-Taking Employee. Another employee, the answer continues, took shorthand notes at her sewing machine on anti-union remarks by other employees last October. When an officer of the firm questioned her, she took notes on his questions. She quit Nov. 10 because of coercion, the union charged.

The NLRB is without jurisdiction to make any allegations whatsoever against the garment company, the statement adds. The labor board is now undertaking to act as "tribunal of accusations which it has itself made in advance of any trial," it is charged.

A hearing is set for Thursday in Courtroom No. 3 in the Federal Building.

LOYALIST PRISONERS HEAR MASS, LEARN REBEL SONG

Altars Erected in Bull Rings at Victoria and San Sebastian for Concentration Camp Captives.

VITORIA, Spain, Feb. 21.—Mass was sung today in two famous Spanish bull rings for Government prisoners held there in insurgent concentration camps. At an altar erected in the center of the ring, 3500 former Republican fighters heard mass in the Plaza de Toros here. Another mass was celebrated in the San Sebastian bull ring.

The prisoners were taught also to sing the insurgents' anthem, "Marcha Granadera" (March of the Grenadiers).

The grand jury, which has begun an investigation of the $7000 "defense" fund put up by movie theater owners in 1937 during annual wage contract negotiations with the operators' union, dominated by John P. Nick and Clyde A. Weston, met again this afternoon to continue its inquiry.

Another theater owner summoned this afternoon was Clarence Kaimann, a member of the owners' negotiating committee. He and Wehrenberg were witnesses before the preceding grand jury which indicted Nick and State Legislator Edward M. (Putty Nose) Brady on charges of extortion in connection with an alleged payment to Brady of $10,000 collected among theater owners in 1936.

Among witnesses called to testify at the second special session yesterday were Henry R. Ward, owner of the Osage Theater; Benjamin A. Pautler, owner of the King Bee Theater; Anastasius Pappas, owner of the Webster Theater; Tony Savage, a motion picture machine operator; Herbert Kolkmeyer, assistant cashier of the Telegraphers' National Bank; Albert Arb and Charles Wohlbrink, tellers at the Jefferson-Gravois Bank.

The Telegraphers' Bank was the depository for the operators' union. Witness in Scheduling Trial.

Wendt was the prosecuting witness in the trial last May of Arthur Schading, business agent of Electrical Workers' Union Local No. 1, who was murdered last September, on a charge of attempting to extort $2000 from Wendt. Wendt testified Schading had demanded $2000 from him but added under further questioning that Schading had not threatened his person or property. Schading was acquitted.

Wendt has said he was not a contributor to the 1937 fund. Paulsen listed in the indictment against Nick and Brady as a contributor to the 1936 fund, has said he contributed to both funds.

$100,000 IN JEWELRY STOLEN

Taken From Pasadena Hotel Suite of Wife of Race Horse Owner.

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 21.—Jewelry valued at $100,000 was stolen yesterday from the hotel suite of Mrs. Austin C. Taylor of Vancouver, B. C., police reported today. She is the wife of the owner of the A. C. T. Stock Farms, which races Whitech, Indian Broom and other thoroughbreds at Santa Anita racetrack.

Included in the loot was a string of 68 graduated pearls with a large diamond clasp. Mrs. Taylor said the gems were insured.

COMMITTEE KILLS BILL TO LICENSE STATE RETAILERS

Measure Intended as a Whip for Sales Tax Collection Rejected by House Group.

AUDITOR SMITH HAD SPONSORED IT
Legislators Say Provision Would Have Given Too Much Power to Administrative Officials.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—State Auditor Forrest Smith's plea for a merchants' licensing provision in the State sales tax law as necessary tax collection power was rejected late yesterday by the House Ways and Means Committee in reporting favorably for passage a bill somewhat strengthening the existing law.

Smith's ideas were incorporated in a bill introduced by Representative V. E. Phillips of Kansas City which, if enacted as written, would have forced every person or firm selling at retail to have obtained a State license to do business. The license would have been subject to revocation for failure to collect the sales tax and promptly remit the collections to the Auditor.

Counted on for Half of Revenue.
The permanency of the tax and the necessity for its repassage after each expiration date is made certain by the fact that it is being counted on to produce more than half the total state revenue for general operating expenses, old age pensions, aid to dependent children, relief and support of the public schools.

Of a total estimated revenue of $85,000,000 for the 1939-40 biennium, the State Budget Department estimates that $44,000,000 will come from the sales tax. With old age pension and other social security demands which were not a State expenditure prior to the first sales tax in 1933, constantly increasing State fiscal officers can not see the possibility of abandonment of the tax. The amount it is expected to produce during the present biennium about equals the requirements of the Social Security Commission.

Under the present law, the auditor has no power to enforce collection of the tax by merchants and its payment to the State except by bringing suit for amounts which he may determine to be due. This is a slow process and very few have been instituted. The power to license a merchant and revoke his license for failure to obey the law would have provided a short cut to enforcement.

The House Committee, however, looked upon the proposal as placing too great a power in the hands of an administrative official, and eliminated the provision from the substitute bill.

The substitute contains a section making the issuance of automobile certificates of title contingent upon a showing by the owner of a new car he has paid the sales tax on it. Officials in the sales tax department have estimated that the State loses many thousands of dollars in taxes each year through the purchase of automobiles in other states by Missouri residents to evade payment of the tax.

exemption of sales to or by personal and educational institutions supported by State funds is omitted in the substitute, which provides that a sales tax shall be paid on materials and supplies bought by these institutions, and on articles sold by them. Purchases by charitable, religious and educational institutions will continue to be exempt, and sales by such institutions will be exempt if made in the buildings occupied by them.

DRIVER OF P. S. CO. BUS IS ACCUSED IN FATAL CRASH

Coroner's Verdict of Carelessness Against Lawrence Proctor in Death of Harry Castens Jr.

A Coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness, naming Lawrence Proctor, driver of a Public Service Co. bus, was returned at an inquest today in the death of Harry Castens Jr., 28 years old, in a collision with the bus yesterday afternoon at California and Shenandoah avenue.

Castens was thrown out of the truck cab, and the overturning truck pinned him to the pavement. After several men in the crowd which gathered lifted the machine to free him, he was taken to City Hospital where he died of a crushed chest and a skull injury.

Testimony at the inquest was that the southbound bus, of the Cherokee line, struck the truck at the center of the street to let one southbound automobile go past but failed to see a second machine which was following. She walked against the side of the second car, driven by James Moran Jr., a WPA worker, 1451A Dodder street.

Mrs. Milich, who lived at 1109 Montgomery street, was second in line to get into the bus. She was accompanied by her husband, Stephen. She suffered a fractured skull.

Hers was the twelfth death in St. Louis this year from injuries suffered in traffic accidents. In the same period last year there were 15 deaths.

MEN TAKING WOMAN TO DOCTOR TUG SLED 8 MILES IN BLIZZARD

Husband and Neighbor, on Snow Shoes, Wade Drifts 5 Feet Deep.

By the Associated Press.
MEEKER, Colo., Feb. 21.—A woman, gravely ill, safely reached a doctor's care yesterday after two men on snow shoes pulled her through a mountain blizzard on a toboggan improvised with skis and orange crates.

The woman, Mrs. Patricia Harrington, 21 years old, is suffering from an intestinal obstruction. Her husband, John Harrington, 27, and Fred Dauth, a neighbor, started their 40-mile journey from Trappers Lake Saturday morning.

The blizzard caught them Sunday, after they had spent Saturday night in a cow camp nine miles down the trail from Trappers Lake, which is 10,500 feet up the slope of Mount Marvill.

"It was awful rough going," said Harrington, "but we never lost the trail. Our snow shoes sank down two feet every step. We were pushing through new, soft snow five feet deep."

Almost exhausted, Harrington and Dauth reached the resort settlement of Twin Springs Sunday night. They had struggled eight miles through Colorado's worst blizzard of the winter.

A hobo pulled by four horses swaled them there. The sled crew reached Meeker with Mrs. Harrington late yesterday after plowing through more than 25 miles of drifted road.

SUPREME COURT DENIES A. J. WALSH ACQUITTED STRIKE CLOSES PLANT

BART DAVIT'S APPEAL OF EMBEZZLEMENT OF ST. LOUIS CASKET CO.

Refuses Rehearing of Ruling Affirming His Conviction of Murder.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—A motion by counsel for Bart Davit for rehearing of the appeal in which the Missouri Supreme Court affirmed his conviction of the murder of Paul Flueck, Maplewood grocer, in a holdup, for which Davit now is serving a life sentence in the State penitentiary here, was overruled today by Division No. 2 of the court.

The Supreme Court did not issue an opinion in refusing to reopen its decision of last Dec. 20, affirming Davit's conviction in St. Louis County Circuit Court. Denial of Davit's motion was entered in the court's minutes with a brief notation.

Davit was indicted but never tried for participation in the kidnapping of Dr. L. D. Kelley of St. Louis, for ransom, in 1931. Davit was convicted of Flueck's murder and sentenced to a life term before he could be brought to trial on the kidnapping charge and St. Louis County prosecuting officials have not pressed the latter charge.

Flueck was shot to death when he resisted an attempted holdup in his grocery in Maplewood, Feb. 20, 1932. The murderer fled. Two years later Davit's photograph was published in newspapers following his arrest in connection with the Dr. Kelley kidnapping. Flueck's widow and a daughter, Mrs. Fred E. Davidson, who were in the store when Flueck was shot, recognized Davit in the photographs and identified him as the murderer.

Two alleged associates of Davit, Angelo Rosegrant and Felix Francis McDonald, are serving sentences of 20 and 60 years, respectively, in the penitentiary here, for their part in the kidnapping of Dr. Kelley.

MAN DIES PLAYING VOLLEYBALL
Alfred Zombathy, part owner of the Ferguson Sheet Metal Works, 34 North Florissant road, Ferguson, collapsed and died last night at 7 o'clock when playing volleyball at the North Grand boulevard.

Efforts to revive him with an inhalator were useless. He was taken to City Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. He was 45 years old, a plumber, and lived at the Florissant address. A son survives.

HOUSE APPROVES EXPORT-IMPORT BANK EXTENSION

Bill Giving Agency Two More Years of Life Passed After Sharp Fight by Republicans.

COMMODITY CREDIT CONTINUANCE VOTED

Increase From $500,000-000 to $900,000,000 in Corporation's Borrowing Authority Provided.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. — The House voted today to continue the functions of the Export-Import Bank to June 30, 1941. It passed and sent to the Senate a measure extending the bank, and the Commodity Credit Corporation, to that date. The bill also would increase from $500,000,000 to $900,000,000 the amount of securities the Credit Corporation could have outstanding at any one time. The vote was 280 to 77.

Earlier, the Senate Banking Committee approved an extension bill. Republican Fight Extension.

Contending the bank might make loans to belligerents and jeopardize American neutrality, House Republicans sought to end or restrict its powers. A 152 to 114 standing vote defeated an amendment by Wolcott (Rep.), Michigan, designed to force liquidation of the bank next June 30. The powers of the bank and the Commodity Credit Corporation will expire then under existing law.

By an equally decisive margin, 156 to 113, the House discarded a proposal by Fish (Rep.), New York, to forbid the bank to make loans of more than $5,000,000 to countries outside the western hemisphere without the consent of Congress.

Again the Democrats won when Rogers (Rep.), Massachusetts wanted to bar loans, unless Congress approved them, for sale or export of arms, ammunition and airplanes that might be used by the navy, army or marine corps. The vote was 150 to 77.

An amendment by Schafer (Rep.), Wisconsin, to forbid loans to countries in default on their debts to the United States was shouted down.

Bank Assailed as "Dangerous." Wolcott, chairman of a Republican committee named to draft party policy on renewal of expiring governmental agencies, told the House:

"When we continue the activities of this bank, we must take into consideration there is no limitation on those activities. It can loan to belligerents, to loyalist or rebel Spain, China, Japan, Germany or Italy."

"It can loan in almost any situation that might involve us in war and almost force the Congress of the United States to back it up."

"It is a dangerous thing to have this bank lying around here when it might make loans that would involve us in conflict."

He said the bank had made no loans or commitments in the first year and a half of its existence and that on Dec. 31 active commitments aggregated only $46,165,508.

Reply by Steagall. Chairman Steagall (Dem.), of the Banking Committee asserted that Wolcott apparently had complained that the bank was not doing enough business and "in another breath seems afraid that it will do too much."

"Nothing is more desirable and essential to the restoration of prosperity," Steagall said, "than the revival of foreign trade. That is all that's undertaken by the export-import bank. There hasn't been a loan made to cover the purchase of war materials. There hasn't been a loan made in violation of the neutrality law, a treaty or any law of the United States. And none is contemplated."

Democratic Leader Rayburn asserted it seemed "strange" that Republicans always were complaining that programs put forward by Democrats were hampering business, "yet when a matter comes up that has for its sole purpose helping American business, there is opposition from the same source."

Gifford (Rep.), Massachusetts, asked why an "administration so anxious about foreign trade was willing to sacrifice domestic trade to get it."

Answering Wolcott, who had commented on a $25,000,000 loan to China, by the bank, Spence (Dem.), Kentucky, said he had a letter from Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, saying no part of the $25,000,000 had been disbursed and no part would be used for promoting sales of war materials. The bank is affiliated with the RFC.

Action in the Senate. In the Senate committee, Taft (Rep.), Ohio, and other Republicans criticized loans advanced by the bank to China and other foreign countries, contending the advances were made to implement foreign policy.

The banking committee voted to limit loans by the bank to a total of $100,000,000. An increase from $500,000,000 to $900,000,000 in the borrowing authority of the Commodity Credit Corporation was approved. Testifying before the Senate committee today, Jones, chairman of both the RFC and the Export-Import Bank, was questioned about an export loan to Mexico. Jones said the Export-Import Bank had assumed "half the risk" of the sale of $1,500,000 of locomotives to Mexico. The locomotives were sold by the Baldwin and the American Locomotive Works, Jones said. Most of the bank's $750,000 loan has been repaid, he added. He testified he was particularly interested in aiding exports to Latin America.

"Other countries are making a strong drive for trade down there and are extending liberal credits," he said. "If the South American countries are going to trade with us they have got to have credit. If we don't want that trade to get away from us we must give them credit."

"I think we should help those countries develop economically. There are a number of things we could buy from them, particularly in Brazil." He listed manganese, iron ore and rubber.

At the moment, Jones said the Baldwin Locomotive Works was seeking credit for the sale of eight locomotives to Colombia. The application has not yet been approved.

Fire in Downtown Joplin. By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., Feb. 21.—Scantily clad occupants of third floor apartments were assisted down ladders in near zero weather early today as fire swept through the three-story Spiva Building in downtown Joplin. Hundreds of persons were attracted to the scene. The fire was still burning at mid-morning, with the cold weather hampering firemen.

AUTHORITY OF POWER BOARD OVER GAS RATES CHALLENGED

Colorado Company Contends It Is Selling Natural Gas Under Private Contract.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. — The Colorado Interstate Gas Co. challenged yesterday the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission over its rates for natural gas. The company replied to a petition by the Public Service Commission of Wyoming requesting the Federal commission to establish a "just and reasonable rate" for natural gas sold by the Colorado-Wyoming Gas Co. to the Cheyenne Light, Fuel & Power Co. Colorado Interstate supplies the Colorado-Wyoming Gas Co. The answer said Colorado Interstate was not a public utility but rather was selling its commodity at wholesale to selected customers under private contract.

LAWYER GETS DELAY UNDER LAW HE TRIED TO REPEAL

Clients of Representative Who Fought Adjournments for Legislators Say He's at Jefferson City.

Hearing of a suit brought by Patrick Higgins, an automobile dealer, for $15,325 damages in connection with the alleged seizure of a car on a writ of replevin obtained by the Welfare Finance Co., was continued until May 8 by Circuit Judge Robert J. Kirkwood yesterday when some of the defendants sought delay because their attorney was State Representative Howard Elliott. A State law makes a continuance mandatory when an attorney in a case is attending a session of the Legislature. Elliott, who introduced a bill at the last session to repeal this law, became attorney of record last Saturday for three individuals; the finance company, alleging that named by Higgins as defendants in the suit. The defendants whom Elliott represents are Justice of the Peace Robert E. Walker, Constable William A. Morant and Deputy Constable Clarence Fleming. Higgins is seeking $225 actual and $15,000 punitive damages from them and

NEW TRIAL FOR BUTLER CONVICTED AS BURGLAR

Supreme Court Rules State Did Not Prove William Allen Broke Into House.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—William Allen, convicted in St. Louis Circuit Court of burglary and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, was granted a new trial today by Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court, which held the State had failed to prove a burglary had been committed within the meaning of the law under which the charge was filed.

"One of the essential elements of proof of a charge of burglary is that there must be a breaking into and an entry," said Chief Justice Ernest M. Tipton, author of the opinion. "If the doors and windows were left open, there could be no burglary."

"The appellant's demurrer to the evidence should have been sustained, as there was absolutely no evidence that the doors and windows had been secured or closed. In fact, there is no proof that the house had any doors or windows."

Ex-Employee of Accusers.

Allen was charged with burglary of a residence at 5045 Lindell boulevard, where he formerly had been employed as a butler, on the evening of Nov. 7, 1936. Miss Elizabeth Thompson, who resided there with her parents, testified that she saw a man she identified as Allen enter a hallway of the residence. Her brother reported $30 was missing from his room when he returned home. Allen was arrested two days later.

The charge was filed under a subdivision of section 4042, Revised Statutes of 1929, relating to breaking into or entry of the dwelling of another person, with intent to commit some felony "by unlocking an outer door by means of false keys, or picking the lock."

"No Proof Doors Were Closed." "Under the information," Justice Tipton said, "it was necessary for the State to prove that the appellant (Allen) gained entrance to the house by means of a false key or by picking the lock. As above stated, there is no proof that the doors were closed, let alone that they were locked."

In reversing the judgment and remanding the case for new trial, the Court held that the State may be able, at another trial, to produce "additional evidence tending to prove appellant guilty as charged; if not, the prosecution must fail."

Judges George Robb Ellison and C. A. Leedy Jr. concurred in the opinion.

$1290 TAX AGAINST ESTATE OF ERIC BERNAYS UPHOLD

Decision Covers Point Not Heretofore Settled by Missouri Appellate Courts.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—A State inheritance tax appraisal report assessing a tax of $1290 against the share of Mrs. Luise C. Bernays of St. Louis, in the $133,000 net estate of her husband, the late Eric Bernays, was sustained today by Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court, which overruled claims of executors of the estate for additional exemptions which would have virtually wiped out the tax.

The decision, dealing with a point not heretofore settled by the Appellate Courts of Missouri, affirmed a ruling of the St. Louis Circuit Court, which had upheld the judgment of St. Louis Probate Court in overruling the exceptions and approving the report of the appraiser, former Gov. Elliott W. Major. Commissioner James A. Cooley, who wrote the opinion, said the principal issue was whether or not a widow's statutory interest in the property of her husband, had he died without making a will, should be deducted in computing the taxable value of the estate for inheritance tax purposes, where, as in this case, the husband has made provision for her in his will, which she accepted, in lieu of dower rights and other statutory rights.

CARDINALS DECIDE TO BEGIN VOTING ON POPE MARCH

All 62 Members of Sacre
College Are Expected
Be Present When Ballo
Are Cast.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL TO ARRIVE MARCH

As Dean of Cardinal Priests
He Will Have Sever
Special Functions After Election.

By the Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, Feb. 21.—Card inals at the Vatican announced today they would meet conclave March 1 to elect a new Pope.

They previously had indicated
they would start the conclave Feb.
28, with voting to begin the following day after Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, and the two South American prelates arrived.

The Vatican announced, however, that the Cardinals decided the opening ceremony would be March 1. Voting consequently will begin March 2.

All 62 Cardinals Expected to attend.
Speculation quickened on the chances of various Cardinals, although all conceded there was little on which to base predictions.

A few diplomats to the Holy Se thought the chances were slightl increased for election of Eugeni Cardinal Pacelli, Vatican secretar of state under Pius and now in termin ruler. Most observers, however, thought he would receive merely a substantial courtesy vot on the first ballot.

Only three of 62 members of the college had not yet arrived. They were Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and the two South American prelates, Cardinals Copello and Lame, who are expected to disemb ark from the Neptunia March 2.
Cardinal O'Connell is transferring to that vessel at Gibraltar.

Cardinal O'Connell's Functions.
Cardinal O'Connell, as Dean of Cardinal Priests, will have a number of special functions. With Cardinal Pignatelli di Belmonte, Dean of the Cardinal Bishops, and Cardinal Casca Dominici, Dean of Cardinal Deacons, he will approach the elector pontiff to ask his acceptance.

If the tradition of many past elections is followed, the one chosen will respond "nolo episcopari"—
"I do not wish to be bishop (of Rome)."

He will be asked to reconsecrate and then will accept with the statement that "since God wishes that I should assume the pontificate, I am unable to say nay."

Pius X swooned when he learned he was elected and said "I accept it as a cross."

BOGUS GERMAN BARONESS GETS FOUR YEARS FOR FRAUD
Woman With 26 Aliases Pleads Guilty in New York; Swindled Scenario Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A self-styled German baroness who allegedly swindled victims from coast to coast with tales of estates inherited, here and abroad, was sentenced to four years' imprisonment today after she had pleaded guilty to a charge of mail fraud.

Postoffice Inspector Harold W.
Mahan said the woman, Priscilla von Sternberg Fitzgerald, 43 years old, mother of two children, posed as the Baroness Petruska von Gosso and had used 26 different aliases.

She was charged with defrauding
Mrs. H. K. Smiley, a movie scenario writer, of $2700 on the pretext that she needed the money for finance trips to Germany and California to take possession of various estates.

Short-Wave Gives Drama Of Flyers' Plight in Fog

Two-way Field-to-Plane Phone Messages Carried to Listeners-in After 10:08 Last Night.

Radio listeners whose sets were turned to the short-wave band used by airplanes last night heard drama more gripping than any to be found in the programs of air adventure on the standard bands. But the end of the story and the explanation of its abrupt interruption was learned only today with publication of dispatches from Pensacola, Fla., telling of the wreck of eight navy planes, the deaths of two pilots and parachute jumps which saved the lives of seven others.

Soon after a dense fog which billowed in from the Gulf of Mexico caused some of the planes to become separated, messages between the radio station at the navy base and the three radio-equipped instruction planes which led the squadron indicated they were in trouble with zero-zero visibility at the home field.

Planes were set there while the radio operator anxiously queried the flyers, only to learn they were unable to see them. Then began efforts to direct the planes to airports where there was a break in the fog that blanketed the coast. Three Ordered to Maxwell Field.

At 10:08, one squadron of three planes that had managed to stay together, was instructed to proceed to Maxwell Field, large army air field at Montgomery, Ala., 160 miles northeast of Pensacola. And this message brought a hint of the flyers' desperate situation as gasoline supply indicators dropped inexorably.

"Proceed to Maxwell Field," the Pensacola operator ordered. "Course zero-point-one-seven. Bail out if engine quits. Acknowledge."

The squadron leader acknowledged receipt of the message, quickly followed by the voice of the station operator, "O. K. Use discretion on your gasoline."

Four minutes later, the squadron leader was told to give the Pensacola test every two minutes. "Keep us informed of all happenings," he was told. "Good luck. Acknowledge."

"Orders received," came a resolute voice.

Hunt for Break in Clouds.

A few minutes later the Pensacola operator was telling the squadron leader that it was 135 nautical miles to Maxwell Field and that he would attempt to find a break in the clouds not so far distant. Weather data for Maxwell Field showed visibility of 15 miles. Instructions for tuning in on the field's radio beam on 278 kilocycles were given.

"Repeat last message; you are very weak," came a voice with a hint of complaint.

Instructions about the Maxwell Field beacon were repeated, to be followed a minute later by information that there was a "break" at Altmore, 50 miles north of Pensacola, slightly to the left of the squadron's course. The leader was advised to "use your discretion."

Soon, again, the orders were changed.

"Collect your formation. Proceed to Mobile. Ceiling 500 feet. Visibility eight miles. Exercise due care. Go around Mobile Bay." The message was carefully repeated.

That was all. For a half-hour the listener's radio gave only a monotonous hum, broken occasionally by the bark of static.

Three flyers landed successfully at Altmore, press dispatches said.

Sayre on Danger in Far East.

Francis B. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State, told the committee conditions in the Far East were "so volatile," that America might be involved in trouble there by an abrupt severance of relations with the Philippines.

Sayre made this statement in reply to a question by Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, who demanded: "Just when and where do our obligations to the Philippines cease?"

Senator Tydings (Dem.), said he would have it understood by the Philippines that if a relaxation were made in the Independence Act provisions it would be done without any implication that the United States was bound to do so. He added that "it involves no obligation on our part to continue . . . granting further concessions."

"This constant whittling down and relaxing of restrictions," he said, "creates a false impression."

Burnett said the United States "would be most derelict in its duty if it pushed this frail bark out into stormy international seas without taking every precaution for its safety."

Makes Inspection Trip.

Burnett returned recently from a four-month inspection in the Philippines where, he said, he discussed "all phases" of the independence question with Filipinos and Americans.

"The War Department is, therefore," he added, "fully conversant with the various problems involved," and "deeply interested" in seeing that the 40-year relationship between the two countries "should be terminated in a manner compatible with our dignity as a great nation."

The War Department, he said, considers the proposed amendments to the Independence Act "the best solution of a question the solution

ADMITTS LIQUOR SALES AT MILLSTREAM CLUB

Manager at Hearing on Plea to Close Crystal Lake Resort Takes Responsibility.

Testimony was begun at Clayton today in the injunction suit to close the Millstream Club on Bopp road, filed last September in behalf of trustees of the village of Crystal Lake Park, who had complained the villagers' repose was disturbed by loud noises, midnight shouts and shots and the crackling of mysterious fires. A temporary restraining order, closing the resort, was issued after the suit was filed.

William F. Berkley, employed as manager for several months after the club was opened last July 4, admitted, as charged in the suit, that liquor was sold at the club, although it had only a 3.2 per cent beer license. Under cross-examination, he told Circuit Judge John A. Witthaus that he had sold "a little whisky" at the bar, not at tables, on his own responsibility. The owner, John G. Oehler, had disapproved, he said.

As far as night disturbances were concerned, he testified, the only one he recalled was when officers appeared to arrest him for not having a village liquor license. Most of the club's business, he added, was from family picnic parties and church groups, quiet and well-behaved day patrons.

Questioned about complaints of blaring phonographs, he said the club had received but one complaint and then had discontinued a phonograph attached to an amplifying system. However, when a rival resort nearby, the Crystal Lake Club, continued playing its phonograph, he said, the Millstream Club turned on its machine again.

"Most of the trouble started when I tried to keep people who had not paid for the privilege from fishing in a lake, around which Oehler had built a fence," Berkley declared. He was not permitted to pursue this line of testimony.

Counsel for Oehler then offered to prove there were no complaints until the trouble over fishing arose and that the owner of the rival resort, Vic Essen, had told Oehler he intended to "close the Millstream Club, no matter what happens." He was not permitted to offer evidence on those contentions.

Another former employee, Jim Mosley, Negro waiter, said the club was peaceful and that the only disturbances he recalled were two minor altercations among other employees.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR FOR JUSTICE OFFICE

Attorney-General Names William Brownrigg, Who Had Similar Post in Michigan.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. — Attorney-General Murphy set up in the Justice Department last night a Division of Personnel Supervision, headed by William Brown-rigg, who served in a similar capacity during Murphy's governor-ship in Michigan.

An announcement by the Justice Department said Brownrigg would "direct all the personnel activities of the department, both in the Washington headquarters and in the field" and would have general jurisdiction over civil service and non-civil service employees.

The Division of Personnel Supervision was established under an executive order of last year.
Earlier, Murphy announced plans for a more extensive use of the civil service rolls in the selection of Justice Department personnel.

The department said Brownrigg's name was selected from the first three names of the Civil Service Commission from a competitive civil service register. He received the highest rating of more than 6000 competitors in the examination, which was held in December, the department said.

Brownrigg served several years as director of the State Civil Service Commission of California.

U.S. PREPARATION FOR SUDDEN PLAN ATTACK URGENT

Assistant Secretary of War Says Nation Must Ready to Protect Fronts at All Times.

SPEAKS BEFORE AVIATION FORUM

Senator Truman Declares
the European Situation Result of Overgrowth Population.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—L.
Johnson, Assistant Secretary of War, said last night the United States must be prepared against the possibility of a swift and announced attack by bomb planes because "the wars of Europe and Asia may transfer themselves to the Western Hemisphere."

Addressing delegates to a national aviation forum, Johnson viewed President Roosevelt's program of air rearmament and stated, "we must have planes sufficient in quantity actually on line ready to protect our territory on all fronts at any time."

Several other speakers, including Major-General H. H. Arnold, Chief of the Army Air Corps, and Rear Admiral A. B. Cook, Chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, stressed the need for added preparedness in the light of force expansion in Europe.

"I emphasize air defense," Johnson, "because in the strategy of today, attack from the air may be the first hostile blow against our peace and our security."

Formalities Old-Fashioned.
"Blasé" formalities as declarations of war have become fashioned, those who plot against the peace of the world can use their destructive machines instantly at a moment most convenient to themselves and least adaptation to the protective plans of the adversaries.

Johnson hinted, as he has before,
that this country had developed pursuit planes which can fly more than 400 miles an hour. He referred apparently to the new experimental Lockheed plane which was damaged in a landing at Mitchell Field, Garden City, N. Y., a week ago Saturday.

Representative Starnes (Dem., Alabama), said: "Out of Germany and Italy has come a concept of national destiny and of the individual's relation to that destiny pungent to every fiber of free manhood in the democratic tradition.
And, shockingly enough, that concept has expressed itself in three writ broad across the skies of Europe, and written with that insurmountable peculiarity American, airplane."

"Invasion of the United States planes from abroad is no longer a fiction," Representative Maas (Rep., Minnesota), said.

Senator Truman (Dem., Missouri), said "the European situation is simply a continuation of agelong expansion and overgrowth of population."

Germany's Research Centers
Rear Admiral Cook said American aircraft industry should be expanded to meet the requirements of commercial air transport and of the army and navy—the artificial and unhappy expansion of 1929, but an expansion premised on a sound dollars-and-cents prospect of increased business.

A statement that Germany four major research centers in aviation, one of which has times the personnel of the American station at Langley Field, Va., was made by John F. Vetter, secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

He cited this as a reason for expanding research facilities in this country.

"Italy," Vetter said, "has constructed an entirely new city, Guidonia, devoted exclusively to aeronautical research."

Commercial Air Threats.
Threats to the United States' position as a commercial air carrier in Latin America were reported by a member of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

"Unknown to most Americans," said Grant Mason Jr., "the Germans now operate more routes in scheduled air transport service in South America than do our carriers."

"German companies now operating on the east and west coasts as well as across South America, and on frequent regular schedule over the Atlantic to Europe."

"Italy intends to inaugurate air line in the near future from Rome to South America, where it will connect with existing Italian services in the Argentine."

The Bureau of Internal Revenue, interested in collecting income taxes from the recipients of the $447,000, is pressing the investigation. In this connection, a three-judge federal court at Kansas City has ordered that an audit be filed with it not later than next Tuesday showing in detail the disposition of a fund consisting of 30 per cent of the impounded premiums, which was turned over to Street and Robert J. Folonise, Chicago lawyer, as trustees for the insurance companies.
This fund was to be used to pay attorneys fees and cost of the rate litigation, and any residue was to be paid to the insurance companies.
St. Louisan Reported Involved.
One phase of the continuing investigations, it was learned, concerns the part a St. Louis man is said to have had in the negotiations leading up to the compromise settlement which was recommended to the three-judge federal court at Kansas City in 1935 by R. Emmett O'Malley, then State Superintendent of Insurance.
After the terms of the compromise were made known in June 1935, providing that only 20 per cent of the impounded excess premiums should be returned to the policy holders who had paid the excess, Boss Thomas J. Pendergast of Kansas City admitted to a Post-Dispatch reporter in New York that he had used his influence with Gov. Park, O'Malley and other State officials in support of the compromise.
As has been told, Street, who was chairman of a Subscribers' Committee which represented the insurance companies in negotiating the compromise, paid a deficiency income tax assessment of $47,093 on $100,000 which passed through his hands in 1935, but was not returned by him for income tax purposes. Attorney Walter H. Eckert of Chicago, who at that time was counsel for Street and now for the executors of Street's estate, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Street had informed him the $100,000 was used for expenses in connection with the rate compromise.
Street Paid the Tax.
If Street had shown the use of this money for expenses — in doing this he would have had to show to whom it was paid—he would not have been liable for income tax on it, and his attorney so advised him. However, he paid the tax.
Street died Feb. 1, 1937, and since then the Government has asserted a claim for income taxes on $347,582 it alleges Street received in 1936 in checks from various insurance companies but did not report. In an answer filed with the United States Board of Tax Appeals the attorney for Street's estate asserts that, if this money was received by Street, it was for the use and benefit of other persons not known to counsel.
The audit to be filed with the court at Kansas City is not expected to throw light on the Street transactions, since the money he is alleged to have handled is said to have been paid directly to him by the various insurance companies.
Attorney Folonise, co-trustee of the 30 per cent fund, recently exhibited a complete audit of that fund to a Post-Dispatch reporter, showing a full accounting of all receipts and disbursements.
What Audit Showed.
There was paid out of that fund of nearly $3,000,000, attorneys' fees of $1,066,913, covering several years of extended and involved litigation.
There was returned to the participating insurance companies $1, 443,244.
Fifty per cent of the impounded fund, or nearly $5,000,000, was returned directly to the insurance companies and the amount they received out of the trust fund was in addition to this. The impounded funds consisted of 16 2-3 per cent of premiums collected after June 1, 1931, the effective date of a rate reduction of that amount ordered by the State Insurance Superintendent. The companies enjoyed

SINGER MAKES DEBUT IN CARNEGIE HALL, RENTED BY COUSIN

Girl Relative of Bartender Greeted With 'Bravos' From Friends and Neighbors.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Louise Corchia, 18 years old, made her debut as a singer last night to the shouts of "bravo" from 1000 relatives, friends, neighbors and others in Carnegie Hall, which had been rented for the occasion by her cousin, Sereno Corchia, an Italian bartender.
Miss Corchia, who learned to sing by following Amelita Galli-Curci on the phonograph, received the most applause for her Italian folk song renditions, but just to show the scope of her training she sang three difficult arias and two groups of French and English songs.
Corchia, who raised the $600 to rent the hall and persuaded Italian clubs and societies to buy whole blocks of tickets, thinks she has had only the first triumph in a career that will take her to the Metropolitan Opera. Her father is an invalid.

NEW JERSEY SENATE MOVE FOR HEARING ON HAGUE

Republican President of Body Favors Inquiry Into Court Appointment.

By the Associated Press.
TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21.—Robert C. Hendrickson, president of the New Jersey Senate, said today he favored calling a public hearing on the nomination of Frank Hague Jr. to the State's highest law court if the sentiment for an inquiry
"continues to make itself apparent."

A public hearing on Gov. A. Harry Moore's designation of the 34-year-old lawyer, son of the Jersey City Mayor and Democratic leader, would be without precedent, Senate leaders said.

The nomination of young Hague to succeed Thomas Glynn Walker of Kearny as a lay Judge of the Court of Errors and Appeals was submitted to the Senate last night.
Gov. Moore at the same time nominated Walker, Democratic Speaker of the 1937 Assembly, to replace Thomas F. Meaney, who resigned as Common Pleas Judge of Hudson County.

Several leaders of the Republican-controlled Senate predicted the nominations of Hague and Walker would be confirmed.
Hendrickson, although presiding officer, is not a member of the Judiciary Committee to which all executive nominations are referred.
He declined to say whether he would initiate a move for a public hearing, but said he had received telegrams protesting against the Hague appointment. An aid said among the protestants were "some important members of the State bar."

Two telegrams from CIO-affil-ied labor groups which have been involved in litigation with Mayor Hague were made public. Both urged Senators to deny consent to both Walker and young Hague and called for public hearings.

road, Normandy. Mrs. Jaeger was also overcome in an attempt to carry the boy from the cellar. Justin Jaeger Jr., 14 years old, opened the basement windows and pulled his mother and Louis Balz into the

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

General American Life Insurance Company

To Our Policyholders:

The General American Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, reports net profits of $2,034,525 for the year 1938.

The year 1938 showed an improvement over 1937 in gross earnings from all lines of insurance and investments.

The statement as of December 31,
1938, shows total resources of $126,068, 594.64, an increase of $2,126,060.34 over 1937. The net yield on mean ledger assets, including cash balances, was 4.16 per cent as compared with 4.15 per cent in 1937. This is substantially in excess of the amount necessary to maintain policy reserves.

The 1938 earnings were applied as follows: $1,457,948.79 added to the contingency reserve—a reserve from which future lien reductions will be made; $116,000 to reserve for other contingencies; $460,576.27 to surplus.

Directors appropriated $394,380.00 from surplus account for the purpose of retiring 6,573 shares of stock in accordance with the General American Life mutualization program which calls for retirement of all outstanding stock as rapidly as earnings and profits permit.
This places the company well ahead of the three-year program adopted at the 1938 annual meeting, which provided for the retirement of $770,000 of stock during the years 1938, 1939 and 1940.
The 6,573 shares called, plus the shares retired in 1936, 1937 and 1938, total 20,823 or 41.6 per cent of the 50,000 shares originally outstanding.

Had there been no program for mutualization of the company, the $1,249,380.00 used to retire stock would have been available for the payment of dividends to the stockholders.

We call attention to the fact that there was paid or credited to or for the benefit of policyholders or beneficiaries during 1938 $14,342,543.23.
The corresponding figures for the entire period since organization in September, 1933, to December 31, 1938, is $95,925,856.41.

Entered.

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 21.—One hundred and fifteen entries, 12 more than were nominated last year, have been received for the sixty-fifth running of the $50,000 added Kentucky Derby May 6.

Col. Matt J. Winn, president of Churchill Downs, said the list includes every leading three-year-old in the country.

Among the entries, he said, are William Selig's El Chico, credited by some persons as the likely choice for winter book favorite.

W. E. Boeing's Porter's Mite, winner of the Belmont Futurity last fall; Joe W. Brown's T. M. Dorsett; Belair Stud's Johnstown.

Col. E. R. Bradley's Benefactor, A. C. Vanderbilt's Impound; Mrs. Beale Franchimier's Xalapa Crown; Tom Taggart's Yale O'Nine; John March's Light Spur and H. W. Jackson's Ariel Toy.

The official list of entries has not yet been made public.

'BISCUIT SHOWS NO LAMENESS IN 2-MILE GALLOP

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—Charles and "Silent Tom" Smith, who trains him, kept their fingers crossed today and admitted hopefully they expected the nation's No. 1

speedster to start in the $100,000

The stable of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt galloped two miles and "cooled out" last night without a trace of the lameness which was so noticeable just a week ago as he lost his first out of the 1939 season to Neil S. McCarthy's Today.

JAPANESE THREAT TO SEIZE SHANGHAI FOREIGN COLONY

War Minister, Referring to Assassinations, Asserts Situation Demands Self-Defense Measures.

SECOND POLITICAL KILLING IN TWO DAYS

Marquis Li Kuo-chieh, Grandson of Famous Chinese Statesman, Li Hung-chang, Shot Down.

By the Associated Press.

TOKYO, Feb. 21.—Declarations in the Diet today were interpreted as indications that the Japanese army might march into the Shanghai International Settlement as a result of the assassination of Tcheng Loh (Chen Lu), Foreign Minister of the Japanese-sponsored Nanking reform Government.

The killing provoked the most turbulent meeting of this session of the Diet and drew from Lieutenant-General Selshiro Itagaki, Minister of War, a declaration that "I am convinced of the necessity to take effective measures of self-defense."

Tcheng Loh, one-time Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, was shot to death yesterday by 20 Chinese gunmen who broke into his home, adjoining the International Settlement.

Another Killing in Shanghai. Dispatches from Shanghai today said Li Kuo-chieh, better known as Marquis Li, grandson of Li Hung-chang, famous Chinese statesman, had been shot five times and killed in the American defense sector of the International Settlement by two unidentified gunmen. Li was reported to have been associated with the Japanese-sponsored Nanking reform Government.

Li was killed as he was leaving his home to enter an automobile. The assassins escaped.

He was born in 1881, the eldest grandson of Marquis Li Hung-chang, great viceroy in the latter days of the Chinese Empire, from whom Li inherited his title.

Former Minister to Belgium. Li's public positions included: Senior counselor of the Board of Agriculture; Chinese Minister to Belgium 1910-1912; member of the advisory council of the President.

Since 1924 he had lived in retirement in Shanghai. A Government order in 1932 ended his connections with the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co. because of his attempt to negotiate a loan with a foreign company.

Japanese army and diplomatic authorities repeated tonight their "grave concern" over an attack in the International Settlement Sunday when a Chinese gunman fired into a taxicab and wounded three of the four Japanese occupants.

The assailant escaped among the crowds celebrating the Lunar new year.

Japanese diplomats said they were preparing a written communication about the matter, but they would not disclose its nature.

Press Assault "Incompetence." Japanese-language newspapers of Shanghai bitterly condemned what they called the "incompetence" of settlement officials to protect Japanese within the area. The papers included the French concession in their condemnation and said the two foreign areas had been "turned into virtual battlefields for 40,000 Japanese residents of Shanghai, whose lives were exposed constantly to an unseen danger."

"We earnestly hope," the papers added, "that the day is coming when the ax will be laid at the root of these evils, the settlement and the concession."

Political assassinations since the Japanese occupation of the Shanghai area in November, 1937, reached a total of 53 with the killing of Li.

Proceedings in Parliament. Various speakers in the Diet charged the Shanghai Municipal Council with incompetence and lack of sincerity in its efforts to prevent terrorism.

"If the council is incapable of maintaining order we certainly can lend our strength," one speaker asserted. "We have more than enough."

Itagaki replied: "Terrorist outrages have occurred frequently and the council has given various explanations, but it is very slow in putting into practice what it says."

"To me this signifies lack of sincerity. If things are to continue like this, I am convinced of the necessity to take effective measures of self-defense."

It was recalled that Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita and others previously had expressed the opinion that all foreign settlements, concessions and leased territories in China must "come under the jurisdiction of China's new government."

Shanghai was admitted by observers here to be the hardest problem to solve, but the latest killing appeared to have given the necessary reason. It was believed in Tokyo that action might come at any moment.

AERIAL BATTLE OVER LANCHOW

By the Associated Press. SHANGHAI, Feb. 21.—Both Chinese and Japanese reported victory today in a great aerial battle over Lanchow, important Chinese military base in Northwest China.

A Japanese navy communiqué said 36 Chinese planes, all made in Russia and piloted by Russian flyers, were shot down in the engagement, which occurred yesterday afternoon.

The communiqué said the Japanese planes, numbering "scores," also destroyed the Chinese aircraft drome at Lanchow and wrecked military buildings.

20 Chinese Civilians Killed. Reports from Chungking, however, said the Chinese had brought down eight enemy planes and that only three Chinese pilots were injured. These reports did not mention any Chinese planes being destroyed, but did say several public buildings were wrecked and about 20 civilians killed.

The fight lasted about 20 minutes, the Japanese communiqué said, with between 40 and 50 Chinese planes engaging the attacking squadron in a dramatic series of fights.

One disabled Japanese bomber, according to the communiqué, deliberately dived into a munitions dump, blowing it up.

Lanchow is the capital of Kansu Province and is the most important transport and assembly point on the Soviet-Chinese war supply route. It is known as a Russian training and equipment center for the Chinese air force.

Revival of Aerial Activity. Chinese reports that nine Japanese planes were shot down last Wednesday over Changsha, Hunan Province capital, and yesterday's battle at Lanchow were regarded as indications that the long-idle Soviet airmen were resuming activity.

They were extremely active in the Hankow area last year, but because of political differences with the Chiang Kai-shek administration, they withdrew to the northwest leaving Hankow and other Chinese cities virtually undefended against air attacks.

Japanese authorities announced today Haimen, Chekiang Province port 200 miles south of Shanghai, had been closed by a Japanese naval force, thus shutting off one of the last coastal gateways through which Gen. Chiang had been able to get supplies.

A boom to obstruct shipping was erected across the harbor entrance, and Japanese said that although no landing was attempted, "the immediate objective" at Haimen was accomplished. Chinese reports have said that an attempt at landing was repulsed.

Chinese had received supplies through Haimen, shipping them overland to Chiang's forces at Nanchang.

Chiang Made Chairman of People's Political Council.

By the Associated Press. HONGKONG, Feb. 21.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek openly and formally assumed leadership yesterday of the only remaining high Chinese organization which he heretofore had not headed.

Chiang was acclaimed chairman of the People's Political Council, a body which is the substitute for the Democratic Congress, at a meeting in Chungking, provisional Chinese capital. In his new office he replaces former Premier Wang Chingwei, who had been ousted from all official positions on charges of being friendly to Japan.

A meeting to protest against the threatened reduction in WPA rolls and to demand additional relief for persons not eligible for WPA jobs has been called by the Project Workers' Union for 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Barr Branch Library, Jefferson and Lafayette avenues.

In handbills distributed in the neighborhood of the meeting place, announcing the meeting, the union names persons in the district who are said to be in need because of inadequate relief and calls for a demonstration to help them.

"There are many more in this neighborhood in need of work or relief," the handbills declare. "If you are one of those, come to the meeting. Support the nationwide movement to stop WPA layoffs."

BILL DRAFTED TO END RAIL HOLDING FIRMS

Senator Wheeler Says Proposal May Be Part of Carrier Relief-Reform Plan.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Chairman Wheeler (Dem.), Montana, of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee said today he was drafting legislation to eliminate railroad holding companies.

This proposal, Wheeler said, may be part of a broad "relief-and-reform" rail program which he and Senator Truman of Missouri will submit to Congress soon.

He has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to make recommendations on a series of rail legislative proposals drafted recently by a joint labor-management committee.

These suggestions included a plan to facilitate railroad consolidation and to eliminate the present ICC authority to make rail rates.

Persons in close touch with the railroad situation said Wheeler's legislation probably would have administration approval.

"There may be some justification for some railroad holding companies, but I don't know of any," Wheeler said. "The effect of such companies is to give a small group of people at the top power to control thousands of miles of roads."

These people can vote dividends by the operating companies and they can drain off the cash of an operating company into non-railroad enterprises. They can raise the salaries of themselves or of their favored subordinates and can engage in all sorts of abuses."

Wheeler said his legislation would give existing holding companies a "reasonable time" in which to liquidate.

CITY AND STATE BOND INCOME TAX BY U. S. OPPOSED BY NOLTE

Comptroller Writes Missouri Delegation It Tends Toward Centralizing Federal Rule.

A request to oppose the proposal for Federal taxation of the income from municipal and state bonds was sent to the two Senators and 13 Congressmen from Missouri to day by Comptroller Louis Nolte.

He said it was generally agreed that interest costs to municipalities and states would be increased from 25 of 1 per cent to 4 of 1 per cent yearly, if the bondholders had to pay the tax, and the added expense would be borne largely by real estate taxpayers.

Nolte said also the proposal would have a bearing on the vast holdings of bonds in banks and would tend towards the centralization of Federal authority, weakening the states at a time when, he declared, strong local government was needed to maintain democracy.

There was merit, Nolte added, in the proposal for Federal taxation of salaries of state and municipal employees, if states and cities were allowed to tax the income of Federal employees within their respective jurisdictions.

NEW OXYGEN MASK VIEWED AS AID IN TREATING PNEUMONIA

Doctors Test Device on 10 Passengers in Two-Hour Plane Flight at 20,000 Feet.

By the Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 21.—Doctors who demonstrated a new oxygen mask for airplane passengers said today it not only opened the way to commercial sub-orbital flying, but is a cable substitute for costly oxygen tents used in treating pneumonia.

Drs. Walter M. Boothby and W. R. Lovelace of the Mayo Foundation tested their simple mask yesterday on a specially-equipped Northwest Airlines transport which flew two hours at 20,000 feet without ill-effect on its 10 passengers.

The mask covers only the wearer's nose, small tubes looping around the mouth, which is unencumbered. In the plane, pipelined carried the mixture to each seat, where passengers plugged in their masks as they felt discomfort from lack of oxygen at high altitudes.

MEXICAN SUGAR PLANT FIGHTS EXPROPRIATION IN NEWSPAPER

Full-Page Ad Denies Calles Had Interest in Refinery, Warns Against Government Control.

By the Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21.—The El Mante Sugar Refinery Corporation took issue with a Government expropriation decree today.

A full-page newspaper advertisement denied Government charges that the company owed $1,800,000 to the Government bank at the time of expropriation, predicted expropriation would not benefit workers or the nation as a whole, said stockholders had received no returns from their investment and denied that the exiled former President, Plutarco Elias Calles, now living in California, had an interest in the concern—although he was its president in 1930. The advertisement said stock "held by his son, Rodolfo, did not amount to 2 per cent of the capital of the company."

President Cardenas in his decree of expropriation declared the company, with its mill in El Mante, was "established by a group who used funds obtained from the Bank of Mexico through the privileged positions they occupied."

The advertisement asserted the mill had benefited the Government, the peasants and the workers, so "with expropriation it will not be possible to increase general benefits, nor better the economic condition of the workers at the service of the company."

Montana Divorce Bill Vetoed.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 21.—Gov. Roy E. Ayers vetoed yesterday the bill reducing the residence requirement for beginning divorce actions in Montana to 30 days. The Governor in his message said "I do not believe that Montana should have the stigma of commercializing on the unsuccessful and unfortunate marriages and domestic troubles of her sister states."

DODGE DENIES ACTING AS MOTHER TO HINES

Testifies Statement He'd Protect Honor of Innocent Man Was Twisted.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey cross-examined the man he succeeded in office, William C. Dodge, at today's session of the retrial of the Hines policy racket conspiracy trial.

Dewey seemed serious as he opened his questioning of Dodge, who was smiling, about his friendship with Hines.

"Would you characterize it as the meaning of a mother to a son?" asked Dewey.

"Not ever having been a mother, I can't say," replied Dodge.

Judge Charles C. Nott Jr. joined in the laughter.

Under questioning, Dodge said he could not recall ever having mentioned a mother-son relationship, and Dewey then produced grand jury testimony of July 27, 1938, and read Dodge's statement that his friendship with Hines was like that of a mother to a son.

Dodge accused Dewey of twisting his meaning, protesting that he meant he regarded Hines as innocent and that he was willing to defend his reputation as a mother would defend her son.

When Dewey turned to Dodge's candidacy for District Attorney, Dodge denied he had sought the job.

Dewey pressed Dodge about methods used in selecting a candidate.

"The same means as they used when they nominated you for Governor," Dodge retorted.

Dewey, unflinching, demanded a more specific reply.

"The same as they do when they pick a Governor, Mayor, Judges and other," said Dodge.

Dewey led through developments to August, 1938, when Dodge was designated as a candidate, and Dodge said no district leader had asked him to accept the nomination.

Dodge agreed that he accepted

PLEA FOR TAX ON ALL PUBLIC SERVICE WAGES

Special Senate Committee Favors Levy Which House Has Approved.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Senator Brown (Dem.), Michigan, told the Senate Finance Committee today Federal and State salaries should be taxed as a matter of "practical justice."

Brown, chairman of a special Senate committee to consider equalization of Federal and State salaries, reported the views of the special committee at a Finance Committee hearing on House-approved legislation authorizing states to tax Federal salaries and giving the Federal Government power to levy an income tax on State and local salaries.

"From an economic standpoint Federal salaries should be subject to State taxation and State salaries should be subject to Federal taxation," Brown said. "The main justification lies in the fact that it is unjust to lay a burden on one class of earning citizens and not tax another class."

Brown estimated 2,600,000 State and municipal employees in the United States received total compensation of $2,600,000,000 annually and that about 1,200,000 Federal employees received $2,000,000,000 a year.

The present Federal income tax rates, he said, would bring the Federal Government $16,000,000 a year in new revenue under the proposed legislation.

Brown added that it was virtually impossible to estimate the probable return to the States because of the multiplicity of tax laws.

Federal, State and municipal employees, Brown said, made up 12 per cent of the wage and salary earning class of the nation, while their income is about 13 per cent of all salaries and wages and 9 per cent of national income.

As to the constitutionality of the proposal, Brown said some decisions of the Supreme Court might be construed as unfavorable to it.

"If various expressions of the court relating to this subject are to be taken as the view of the court, there is no question in my mind that the court would find this measure unconstitutional," Brown said. He added, however, that the precise question involved had never before the Supreme Court except in two cases in which other matters also were at issue.

Supreme Court Rejects Attack on Witness Against Randy White.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—The conviction of Randy White, of St. Louis, on a charge of unlawfully and feloniously setting up and keeping a gambling device—a "horse racing" slot machine—was affirmed today by Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court.

The decision knocked out a defense attack on the competency of testimony of a witness who agreed to turn "State's evidence" in the case.

White's conviction in St. Louis Circuit Court resulted in a sentence of six months in the St. Louis Workhouse. His counsel, in appealing, stood on a demurrer in the trial, hence did not offer any evidence.

Basis of Appeal.

On appeal the defense attacked the testimony of Chris Constantin, proprietor of the restaurant and beer tavern where the slot machine was found in operation. Constantin testified White placed the machine in his tavern and said they had an agreement as to division of the profits and servicing of the machine.

The defense charged Constantin went to the Circuit Attorney, after hearing his own name was before the grand jury. It was alleged he agreed to testify against White and was promised immunity from indictment on a like charge. It was contended that under these circumstances and under an agreement such as alleged, Constantin's testimony was not competent. In support of the demurrer it was asserted there was not a case against White, without Constantin's testimony.

Because of the point raised on appeal, the Supreme Court opinion, written by Judge C. A. Leedy Jr., with the concurrence of Judges George Robb Ellison and Ernest M. Tipton, was devoted to the sole question of whether the testimony was admissible.

Competency of Witness.

"We do not understand counsel challenges the general rule that an accomplice is a competent witness," Judge Leedy said, "notwithstanding the fact he may have made an arrangement by which, if he turns State's evidence he will not be prosecuted, if he has not agreed to testify in a particular way, but that such fact goes only to his credibility."

The Judge said that even though the words "testify against defendant" were used in Constantin's conversation with an assistant circuit attorney, was conceded, "we do not think the record warrants the inference that it was understood, or even implied, that in testifying he was to do other than disclose his full knowledge touching the offense, in return for which he was to be shown consideration."

"That the latter took the form of immunity does not amount to anything more than the ordinary practice and usage obtaining where an accomplice testifies for the State," Judge Leedy said, "and so his competency as a witness was not thereby affected."

Denies Love for Singer.

BITTEL'S testimony that she had told him she was in love with Alexander Gray, a singer she had met in California, was false, Mrs. Bittel testified. She said she had met Gray through her son-in-law, Leonid Leonardi, now in Hollywood, who formerly was orchestra leader at the Missouri Theater here, but had formed no attachment for him.

Mrs. Bittel testified she had not told Bittel to "stuff cotton in your ears" when her 17-year-old nephew and other relatives kept him awake. Bittel had declared he was kept awake until 2 a. m. by their noise.

Mrs. Bittel, formerly married to the late Ernest Busch, resides at 4378 Lindell boulevard. Bittel lives at 4320 Lindell.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Justice Gerald Nolan reserved decision yesterday on a motion by counsel for Adolph Eckstrom to dismiss a habeas corpus suit by which Marion Talley, the former opera singer, seeks to regain custody of their 3-year-old daughter, Susan.

Attorney Frank Delaney contended that the action was nullified by Miss Talley's non-appearance, as required by law, within 20 days of the filing of the application.

Both Delaney and Miss Talley's lawyer, John S. Keith, conceded that their clients were remaining in seclusion to thwart efforts to serve legal papers on them.

Delaney says he has prepared a separation suit in behalf of Eckstrom. Miss Talley's estranged husband and former voice teacher, but that he is unable to serve papers on her. Eckstrom has not been served in the habeas corpus proceeding, which also names his sister and brother-in-law.

CALL TO PHI BETA KAPPA TO JOIN FIGHT ON NATIONALISM

"We Are Against Super-State, False Americanism," Declares Dean Gauss of Princeton.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The 83,000 members of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic society, have been called on by their leaders to join in a fight against the spread of dictatorship.

"We feel that the time has come to fight for a simple principle everywhere," Dean Christian Gauss of Princeton University said in a keynote address to 3000 members and guests of the society last night.

Asserting that nationalism is "the most respectable prejudice of our time and easily turns to dictatorial processes," Dean Gauss added: "Super-patriots and super-patriotic societies also believe in the super-state, even when advocated in the name of false Americanism. We hold that democracy ends where the persecution of minorities begins. . . . On that issue we hereby declare war."

VINSON URGES HOUSE TO PASS AIR BASE BILL

Committee Head Says U 'Finds It Necessary Answer Dictators in C Language.'

FISH SEES GUAM PLAN AS 'DAGGER AT JAPAN'

Chairman Replies That T Island Is Valuable as fense Base Against tack.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—C. Vinson (Dem., Georgia), chairman of the House Naval Committee, urged House approval of the $53,800,000 naval base program today with an assertion that "America now finds necessary to answer the dictators in their own language."

"The world might just as know," he said, "that America is not going to submit to being destroyed with other unprepared democracies."

Vinson took the floor amid heated debate over the navy proposal to establish a seaplane outpost on the Pacific island of Guam.

"It's a dagger at the throat of Japan," shouted Representative Fish (Rep., New York), who added that "if we were ever going for war, this is the way to go. It's these 'days of war hysteria' that we're living in."

Representative Colmer (Dem., Mississippi), said he feared the authorization to spend $50,000,000 on the island would be the "entire wedge to build up a fortress island."

Naval officers have asserted that there was no present intention of fortifying the island, but Colmer argued that "if we are not going to fortify it, why do anything about it?"

Value of Strategic Position.

Vinson said the security of the tiny Pacific island some day might be indispensable to the success of United States defensive operations.

"Its strategic position in the Western Pacific," he said, "makes it of inestimable value to the United States as a possible defense base which would act as a deterrent to any Asiatic Power contemplating a hostile move toward the Hawaiian Islands or the American continent."

"Let no one think that with the world being overrun by the dictators—Germany and Italy, Europe and Japan in the Far East—it is not of the utmost importance that we be forever vigilant in looking out for our defenses."

Two Years to Supply Artillery.

The Senate Military Committee heard today that the army could obtain in less than two years sufficient anti-aircraft weapons to equip its "initial protective force" of 400,000 men.

Chairman Sheppard (Dem., Texas), said Major-General Charles Wesson, Chief of Ordnance, told committee in a closed session that day and night that would be required in manufacturing plants to turn out sufficient heavier types of anti-aircraft guns in two years.

The army made a start on manufacture of this type of artillery under an appropriation of $13,000,000 and contract authorization of $10,000,000 by the last Congress. Sheppard said testimony of Vinson and other army officials disclosed that even the appropriation of $110,000,000 sought in the President's rearmament program for purpose would not provide enough supplies for the 400,000 soldiers comprising the regular army, National Guard and organized reserves.

Free Services South American.

While the Senate Committee considered armaments, the House Military Committee was told that George Messersmith that European nations were "using every effort to press the services of their experts on South American countries."

Most of the South American nations prefer, however, he said, to use United States experts—chiefly for solving agricultural and economic problems—and pay for their services.

Messersmith testified on a bill amend the law authorizing country to detail experts for foreign service so that, when foreign Governments pay for services, the funds could go directly to the departments involved instead of into the general fund of the Treasury.

Immediately after Messersmith concluded, the committee unanimously approved the legislation.

The Navy Department today asked Congress to declare that conservation of petroleum deposits underlying submerged lands on

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Chairman Vinson (Dem., Georgia), of the Naval Committee urged House approval of the $53,800,000 naval air base program today with an assertion that "America now finds it necessary to answer the dictators in their own language."

"The world might just as well know," he said, "that America is not going to submit to being destroyed with other unprepared democracies."

Naval officers have asserted there was no present intention of fortifying the island, but Colmer argued that "if we are not going to fortify it, why do anything about it?"

Value of Strategic Position.
Vinson said the security of the tiny Pacific island some day may be indispensable to the success of United States defensive operations.

"Its strategic position in the Western Pacific," he said, "makes it of inestimable value to the United States as a possible defense base which would act as a strong deterrent to any Asiatic Power contemplating a hostile move toward the Hawaiian Islands or the American continent."

"Let no one think that with the world being overrun by the dictators—Germany and Italy in Europe and Japan in the Far East—it is not of the utmost importance that we be forever vigilant in looking out for our defenses."

Two Years to Supply Artillery.
The Senate Military Committee heard today that the army cannot obtain in less than two years sufficient anti-aircraft weapons to equip its "initial protective force" of 400,000 men.

Chairman Sheppard (Dem., Texas), said Major-General Charles M. Wesson, Chief of Ordnance, told the committee in a closed session this morning that day and night shifts would be required in manufacturing plants to turn out quantities of the heavier types of anti-aircraft guns in two years.

The army made a start on manufacture of this type of artillery under an appropriation of $13,000,000 and contract authorization of $10,000,000 by the last Congress.

Sheppard said testimony of Wesson and other army officials disclosed that even the appropriation of $110,000,000 sought in the President's rearmament program for this purpose would not provide enough artillery, ammunition and other supplies for the 400,000 soldiers comprising the regular army, National Guard and organized reserves.

While the Senate Committee considered armaments, the House Military Committee was told by George Messersmith that European nations were "using every effort to press the services of their experts" on South American countries free of charge.

Most of the South American nations prefer, however, he said, to use United States experts—chiefly for solving agricultural and economic problems—and pay for their services.

Messersmith testified on a bill to amend the law authorizing this country to detail experts for such foreign service so that, when the foreign Governments pay for the services, the funds could go direct to the departments involved instead of into the general fund of the Treasury.

Senate Votes Appropriations For Two TVA Dam Projects Which House Had Rejected

Agrees to $12,500,000 for Gilbertsville and $4,252,000 for Watts Bar—Vote on Latter Is 49 to 31.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Without a record vote, the Senate agreed today to the report of its Appropriations Committee to include $12,500,000 to continue work on the $100,000,000 Gilbertsville Dam on the Tennessee River near Paducah, Ky. The House on Feb. 8 eliminated this item for the Tennessee Valley Authority together with an appropriation for $4,252,000 to start work on a new $38,000,000 dam at Watts Bar.

Before approving the continuation of work at Gilbertsville, the Senate restored by a vote of 31 to 49 the Watts Bar appropriation to the independent offices bill.

The vote today was a victory for Senators Alben B. Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader, and Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee. The fight against the appropriations was led by Senators Alva Adams (Dem., Colorado), and Robert A. Taft (Rep., Ohio).

Work on the Gilbertsville Dam was started last year and about $5,000,000 has already been spent on construction. When or if completed, it will be the westernmost dam on the Tennessee River.

Four Types of Opposition.
Opposition to the Gilbertsville Dam, formidable in the aggregate, could be broken down into four interlocking classes—spokesmen for the coal industry, the "economy bloc," the privately owned utilities and the anti-New Deal groups of Republicans and Democrats who believe any setback given President Roosevelt is a strategic political gain.

These elements were in evidence when the House, by a teller vote of 159 to 122 on Feb. 8 adopted the amendment of Representative Charles I. Faddis (Dem., Pennsylvania), to reduce the 1939-1940 appropriation for the Tennessee Valley Authority from $38,000,000 to $21,797,000. By this reduction, the allocation for Gilbertsville was eliminated temporarily.

The House debate over the Faddis amendment ranged over the entire subject of the TVA and little attention was given the administration argument that for the time being Gilbertsville will be almost exclusively for navigation and flood control. Hydro-electric power development at Gilbertsville, the TVA officials insist, is a question for the more distant future. When electric power is included, however, Southeast Missouri and even St. Louis will be within the radius of possible service.

Only TVA Dam in Kentucky.
Gilbertsville is on the Tennessee River about 22 miles upstream from the confluence of the Tennessee with the Ohio River at Paducah. It is the only TVA dam contemplated in Kentucky. From the political standpoint this is important. Senator Barkley was up for re-election last year and he secured the initial appropriation for the dam last session.

The site of the dam is about 184 miles below Pickwick Landing Dam, now practically completed, about 160 miles southwesterly from Louisville, about 150 miles southwesterly from St. Louis and about 70 river miles from Cairo.

The dam, as planned, will consist of a navigation lock, spillway, and powerhouse section across the present river channel. The entire structure will be about 8600 feet long, with an earthen embankment 65 feet high. The concrete spillway structure, from bedrock to the top of the operating platform, will be about 150 feet high. The lock will have a chamber 600 feet long and 110 feet wide and will be designed for a minimum lift of 68 feet.

Although the TVA says there will be no initial installation of hydro-electric equipment, the approved plans call for the ultimate erection of an indoor type powerhouse of six generating units with a total rated capacity of 192,000 kilowatts.

Power for St. Louis Unlikely.
This power would be available for Western Kentucky, Western Tennessee, Southern Illinois and Southeast Missouri. TVA officials, however, declare that St. Louisans should have no false hope of immediate cheap rate TVA power because even if the dam and power plant were completed on schedule, the regions adjacent to the dam would consume most of the energy.

Present plans call only for a navigation and flood control dam for boats of nine-foot draft, a distance of 184 miles. TVA experts declare that the 4,600,000 acre feet of flood-control storage created by the dam would have reduced the 1937 flood crest at Cairo by two feet.

A TVA announcement on the dam says: "The normal pool area of the reservoir is 160,000 acres. No large communities will be affected by the formation of this lake. Practically no important industries will be affected. No mineral lands or valuable timber will be inundated. Completion of the dam will make the Tennessee navigable from Paducah to the upper end of the Chickamauga pool, a distance of 520 miles."

Senator Norris (Independent, Nebraska), charged in the Senate yesterday that the "power trust" was behind the move to reduce TVA appropriations. Such charges are always difficult to prove, but Representative Dewey Short (Rep., Missouri), during the House debate spoke for the public utility security holders when he answered Representative John Rankin (Dem., Mississippi), in these words: "I want to remind him that 4,000,000 American citizens, 'not economic royalists' and 'princes of privilege' but 4,000,000 good, average, middle-class Americans, have invested over 12 billion dollars of their own money in the public utility industry of this country. That industry hires and employs 250,000 American citizens. It pays $250,000,000 a year to the Federal Government in taxes only to have the Federal Government come in and set up an organization in direct competition with private enterprise which it, the Government, taxes to support Government itself."

In sponsoring his own amendment, Representative Faddis included the TVA expenditures as a part of the "Socialistic experiment" of the New Deal, and contended the expenditure would not reduce the unemployment rolls.

DEMOCRATS' CAUCUS ROOM ACOUSTICALLY BAD FOR HARMONY

Reverberations, Lack of Ventilation and Gloominess All to Be Remedied.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—There have been suspicions for a long time that all was not technically well within the big, high-ceilinged, marble House caucus chamber where the Democrats occasionally meet to discuss party affairs.

Recently, technicians from the Bureau of Standards made tests in the room with sound-measuring devices. In rooms in which people are happiest, sound reverberates 1.3 seconds. In the House caucus room, the technicians discovered, it reverberated three full seconds. This makes for distortion, ear aches, misunderstandings and shouting.

The technicians also discovered that smoke stays in the big room, irritates non-smokers and makes it look gloomy. Acoustical plaster has been proposed for the walls and ceiling. Heavy drapes will be added to the windows. To take care of the cigar smoke, exhaust fans are to be installed.

One Representative suggested that the bare white walls were not conducive to happiness. He proposed some warm color like blue or pink.

TWO QUAKERS GET BOK AWARD FOR WORK WITH REFUGEES

Honored at Philadelphia Meeting.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Two Quakers were rewarded with $5000 each last night for their work in behalf of distressed European people, particularly Jews in Germany.

The Philadelphia award of $10,000, founded in 1921 by Edward W. Bok, was split between Dr. Rufus M. Jones, chairman, and Clarence E. Pickett, secretary, of the American Friends' Service Committee of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who donates proceeds of her lecture tours to the committee, spoke at the presentation ceremonies. Dr. Jones, 76-year-old former Haverford College professor, recently visited Germany to intercede with high Nazi officials in behalf of Jewish refugees. Pickett was cited for his supervision of two European "study periods" and "relief and rehabilitation work" in the United States, especially in the bituminous coal areas.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—The Government, in a move to help Britain combat terrorist bombing by the outlawed Irish Republican army, introduced measures in Parliament yesterday authorizing the death penalty for treason.

The measures reintroducing capital punishment provide that persons accused of treason within or outside the state be tried in the same manner as persons charged with murder.

The submarine L21, formerly a part of the British fleet, broke adrift in a gale from the British tugboat Strongbow when proceeding early today to Ireland to be broken up.

The deficit, fixed at 1,260,000,000 crowns ($43,000,000), was ascribed to cession of Sudetenland to Germany and the federalization of the state which resulted in a surplus of civil servants.

ANOTHER BILLION FOR ARMS SOUGHT BY CHAMBERLAIN

Prime Minister Tells Commons, However, That Munitions Race Will Bankrupt Europe.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 21.—Prime Minister Chamberlain sought House of Commons approval today for raising the limit of Britain's borrowing for her great arms program to £800,000,000 (four billion dollars) and warned attentive members that even this might not be enough.

He opened the second day of defense debate with a reminder that £580,000,000 ($2,900,000,000) was scheduled for armaments expenditure in the next year alone—a sum equal to almost the entire national debt in 1914.

Chamberlain admitted that the armaments race if continued "must lead to bankruptcy for every country in Europe."

But, he said, a disarmament conference at present is "not a practicable proposition" since there is not sufficient evidence to show that it had a chance of success.

"A conference that failed would be worse than no conference," he said.

Loan Plea Indicated.
Then he indicated that Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, might be compelled to ask for further loans, since the estimated expenditure of £1,250,000,000 ($6,250,000,000) for the first three years of the five-year, £1,500,000,000 ($7,500,000,000) rearmament program launched in 1937 would leave only £250,000,000 ($1,250,000,000) for the last two years.

Chamberlain promised the House to "watch for every opportunity that may come of persuading other countries of the folly of the course we all are pursuing."

It would be "criminal," he said, not to attempt to halt the arms race. In a conciliatory reference to dictators he added: "It would not be a bad thing if we ourselves showed a little more confidence and did not allow ourselves to believe every tale that comes to us about the aggressive intentions of others."

In this connection he took a slap at Winston Churchill, rebel Tory, as "bogey number one."

Previously he had defended Britain's abandonment of the League of Nations policy of collective security.

Atlee Assails Policy.
Clement R. Atlee, leader of the Labor opposition, charged that Chamberlain's policy had "vitality upset" the European balance of power and "sacrificed most principles of the utmost importance."

"The feeling of the country is that we always are on the side of aggression, wrong and dictatorship," Atlee continued.

He asserted that in spite of the Government's "immense" expenditures for armaments it was not easing unemployment. He said that "large fortunes are being made out of munitions in a time of need" and that this had "a grave effect on the morale of our people."

Atlee assailed British policy in Spain and the Conservatives' hope that Gen. Francisco Franco would free himself from the influence of Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini after the war was over.

"We cannot gamble with the defense of this country on the basis of the Prime Minister's belief in the words of dictators," Atlee declared.

"Peace Through Trade."
The Government pushed a new foreign policy slogan today—"peace through trade"—intended to augment, in some measure at least, the Chamberlain program of appeasement.

Chamberlain still hopes to achieve European accord by peaceful bargaining with the dictators.

But it was apparent that his foreign policy was setting out on a new tack.

The announcement that Britain was dispatching representatives to open trade talks with Russia and Germany was regarded as a significant indication of a realignment.

Talks in both capitals, especially in Moscow, may lead to a closer diplomatic understanding. The surprise business approach to Russia coincided with reports that Britain was seeking closer political relations with Moscow and that Chamberlain had decided the best way to advance his appeasement.

King George Launches 35,000-TON WARSHIP

1000 Police Guard Him at Newcastle Against Possibility of Bombs.

By the Associated Press.
NEWCASTLE, England, Feb. 21.—King George VI, guarded by more than 1000 police, today launched Britain's great battleship which bears the name of his father, King George V.

"May God bless her and those who serve in her," the King cried as the 35,000-ton ship shot down the ways into the River Tyne, the first battleship Britain has launched in more than 15 years and the first of a new group of monster vessels that will total at least nine.

As the King and Queen Elizabeth came to Newcastle for the ceremony they were under the strictest guard ever given a modern British monarch in his own country.

Special Constables Called.
Because of recent bombings attributed to Irish republican sympathizers, nearly 500 special constables were called to augment local police. Every place the King and Queen were to visit was inspected for bombs.

Pulling a silver lever which released a magazine of Australian wine to smash against the great craft, King George watched the vessel slide into the stream.

The ship will mount 10 14-inch guns and have secondary armament of 16 5.5-inch guns in eight turrets, as well as numerous smaller pieces. The Admiralty said the vessel would be appreciably faster than the 23 knots of the last battleships built by Britain.

Three battleships will be launched later this year, and another early in 1940. Two other battleships have been authorized and the Government has announced plans for two more.

Detectives on Hand.
The train, with detectives surrounding it, will be the home of the King and Queen during their three-day visit to the northeast coast, a semi-state tour as it is the last of 10 visits to the provinces following the coronation.

Thousands jammed the banks of the River Tyne.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Two Letters on Manhasset Village.

BACK of the unfavorable publicity surrounding Manhasset Village, there appears to be a move to prejudice St. Louis against the development. One can easily understand the anxiety of the agitators by meditating a few moments upon the living conditions of the apartment population of St. Louis. These agitators should have realized long ago that the renter would not permanently endure the smoke and grime of St. Louis and would take the first opportunity that presented itself to live where it is possible to have sunshine and fresh air. If for one longed for such conditions while the real estate men did nothing about smoke abatement, I have found these favorable conditions in Manhasset Village.

Selfishly, I join the other tenants in hoping the mud-slinging will stop.

We are satisfied and pleased. We can only wish the management the greatest success.

A TENANT.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE statements of Mr. McDonald of the PHA, regarding the housing situation here, show that he does not know the conditions in his home city much less other sections of the country. He surely must have been smoking a wonderful brand of tobacco when he referred to the "gold mines" in apartment houses here.

It is true, of course, that apartments built during the boom period, when costs of construction were high, have had to go through receiverships, because they could not meet the old requirements of fixed charges. But then this was true of many other businesses.

If this were a personal loan on the part of Mr. McDonald, would he make the loan on either Manhasset or Lakeside? It is strange that the Government takes issue with the awards for property for the river-front memorial, but is not interested in a 300 per cent write-up on property for which it guarantees the interest and principal.

There is something rotten in any financing of the type and, as taxpayers, we are entitled to know just how our money is being thrown away.

APARTMENT OWNER.

On the Small Loans Bill.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IT is almost inconceivable that the Missouri Legislature, confronted with the distress of thousands of our citizens, should bring forth a bill to exploit those who are forced to borrow from the small loan companies. I think there should be an exhaustive investigation to determine why these assembliesmen were moved to pass such an outrageous and uncalled-for measure. It is even harder to understand why so-called "welfare" organizations joined Mr. Christy's organization and aided in persuading members of the House to join in the passage of this measure.

While we hear much of the so-called financial distress of these small loan companies, we hear practically nothing of their going into receivership. Under these conditions, the increase from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent in interest rates is unthinkable.

Service Car Driver Asks Some Questions.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I THINK you are doing a wonderful work in exposing the service car racketeers. We poor service car drivers have to struggle for those nickels and dimes, only to hand them over to the "big shots," who are living in luxury. Who gets all this money? We pay about $20 a month for insurance and the insurance company gets only $2.50. Who gets the rest of the money?

Members of the service car union have been threatened with severe reprisals if they divulge a word to anyone regarding their business. Besides buying gas and oil from the company garage, we also must have our cars greased on its greasing rack. The drivers have no voice in the union meetings. Everything is run by officers of the service car company, who are also officers of the drivers' union. It is strictly a company union.

It is high time that the drivers revolted against these racketeers, but who wants to take the first step and get a sound beating-up for his pains?

SERVICE CAR DRIVER.

Widows and the Inheritance Tax.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

MARRIAGE is, and should be, a legalized, equal partnership. In a high percentage of cases, accumulation of property and money is as much due to the sacrifices, economies and sagacity of the wife as of the husband. In other words, it is plainly evident that the woman contributes as much as the man, on the average, to successful accumulation and citizenship.

When the husband dies, under existing tax laws, the wife is forced to suffer a double loss, death of her partner and reduction of her income, which, in many cases, is a handicap, not only to the wife but to the growing family. Smaller inheritance taxes for the widows and persons more for adult children would be equitable and just.

CITIZEN.

DANGER SIGNS FOR THE COURTS.

The courts, every citizen is told time and again, are the keystone of government and the guardians of democracy. Judges and courts should be honored and respected because of the exalted role they play in the American system.

All this is very true. Certain recent events, however, make continuance of such honor and respect a difficult matter in many instances. The disturbing episodes include those in which:

Federal Circuit Judge Martin T. Manton of New York resigns when facing charges that he accepted heavy loans from persons with cases pending in his court.

Federal District Judge Edwin S. Thomas of Connecticut is summoned home from a Southern cruise, subpoenaed when he fails to keep an appointment with a Department of Justice investigator and, after other efforts to evade questions, is ordered to turn over to the Government his bank accounts and other records, in connection with the Manton inquiry.

The President uses Floyd H. Roberts as a political pawn in his feud with the two Virginia Senators. As a result, his appointment to the Federal bench hence is rejected by the Senate.

The President appoints and the Senate unanimously confirms Gaston L. Porter for a Federal judgeship in Louisiana, despite his unsavory record while Attorney-General, and over protests from Louisiana citizens.

Frank Hague Jr., 34-year-old son of Jersey City's Mayor Hague, is appointed to New Jersey's highest court by Gov. A. Harry Moore, political creature of the boss.

Impeachment proceedings are launched against a Brooklyn Judge for allegedly accepting bribes, and the special investigator says "quite a lot more" judges will be charged with corruption in connection with a bail bond racket.

Huge fee allowances granted to lawyers and others in the fire insurance cases by Judge Nike G. Sevier of Cole County are held by the State Supreme Court to have been made without legal authority, and therefore to be invalid.

Certain St. Louis Circuit Judges have completely demonstrated their unfitness for the bench. Certain of these Judges are known to associate with Gully Owen and Beverly Brown, the city's leading hand-book impresarios, and to be obligated to them, at least in part, for their seats on the bench.

These scattered instances, ranging from the local courts to high Federal posts, are ominous in their import when viewed together. The circumstances differ, but all these cases have one danger in common—they weaken a major defense of democracy, and they undermine the people's confidence in the courts.

IN THE DEMOCRATIC TRADITION.

Turbulent scenes were enacted last night at the German-American Bund's mass meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York. Despite the turmoil and the public vilification of anti-American tenets that resulted, Mayor LaGuardia was undeniably right in refusing to stop the meeting, as various religious and patriotic organizations had asked. To do so, the Mayor said, would be to grant "the kind of free speech they have in Fascist countries."

The American right of free speech thus was preserved, for this right can be a vital thing only if it applies to unpopular as well as to popular causes. If the Bund gets enough rope, it will inevitably hang itself, and the New York meeting last night played out an ample supply of hemp for that purpose.

The organization's pro-Nazi credo has only the most limited appeal for Americans, even for those of German descent. Hearing denunciations of American leaders and American democratic traditions, seeing a picture of Washington flanked by swastikas, hearing intolerance openly preached, witnessing the Hitler salute and the arrogance of Storm Troopers—all these constitute a sickening demonstration for Americans.

Last night's turbulent session had its unfortunate aspects, but it was a net gain in the fight to maintain democratic institutions.

A "HALL OF SHAME" FOR KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, the stronghold of Pendergast corruption and gangsterism, is to have a public "Hall of Shame" in its City Hall. But wait—let no wily wit dismiss this news with a blasé snort as something just too utterly appropriate. And let there be no caustic quips on the vast amount of wall space for such a project.

For this gallery is not one that will be headed by the portrait of Walter Washington Graves, famous Non-Prosecuting Attorney cited by the Governor for "continuous failure to prosecute ghastly felonies."

Nor will it contain the features of Charles Gargotta, North Side gangster of the 27 continuances. It will not even contain the pictures of one of the hundreds of election crooks and skull-busters who took part in the 1934 election with its four murders, 200 assassins and 100,000 felonies. Neither will there be a likeness therein of City Manager H. F. McElroy, the boss' complacent stooge.

This gallery, McElroy announces, will contain just the pictures of motorists involved in serious accidents. Kansas City's motor fatality rate for 1938 was 16.7 per 100,000, so perhaps the "Hall of Shame" is justified from that standpoint. But if there were any way to apply the slipstick and get a ratio on corruption, it certainly would show the need for a larger and more appropriate "Hall of Shame." Or don't you think so, Attorney-General McKittrick?

STUDY IN ASSASSINATION.

The House Judiciary Committee of the Missouri Assembly maintained its reputation as an assassination chamber for reform measures when it killed the bill to create a State Legislative Council such as Kansas, Illinois and several other states have found to be valuable adjuncts to their Legislatures. This is the third time in five years that the proposal has been beaten.

Briefly, the bill proposed that a permanent council of 27 members, comprising the Lieutenant-Governor, the Speaker, 10 Senators and 15 Representatives, be established to function throughout the year in gathering information and background material which members might desire on any subject of proposed legislation, to prepare a legislative program in advance of each session, to study possible consolidation of administrative departments and to examine effects of previously enacted legislation.

The Legislature meets once every two years. Its members have to begin from scratch and try to dig through a welter of bills, attend general sessions, go to committee hearings and special conferences, and be accessible to their constituents. It is physically impossible in this short time to give real consideration to each and every bill. Naturally, most Missouri sessions are masterpieces of confusion as a result of this archaic machinery. After the session is over, legislation is at a standstill although the problems of state go merrily on their way.

A State Legislative Council, sitting during the intervals while there is no legislative action, could keep good causes alive and do much generally to expedite and simplify the work to be handled in a regular legislative session. Carefully drawn legislation, winnowed from the chaff and ready for presentation when the Assembly meets, would give coherence and direction to any session. The cost of a State Legislative Council would be nothing compared to the saving in session expenses.

However, the politics of the Casey-Brogan-Kinney school are well content with the rusty, creaky, complex machinery that they know so well how to manipulate. It grinds out the bills they want and chloroforms those that they and their lobbyist friends do not want.

How much longer are the citizens of Missouri going to take it on the chin?

THAT MORNING AT MANILA.

Every Jack Tar of us out this way was stunned the other day when Rear Admiral Tausig told the world that the American Navy has three Admirals of the Fleet and the British Navy has three Admirals of the Fleet. Most of us experienced that sinking feeling associated with going down for the third time. But Congress has already heard from the country, and this humiliating disparity, we may be sure, will be corrected.

The gallant Tausig also touched upon our Commodore situation. We have never gone in for Commodores in a big way. Scanning the vasty deep of time, we were able to detect the footprints of but two Commodores on the watery waste. Perry of Lake Erie naturally could not be missed, and the black flag of Commodore (by courtesy) Vanderbilt floats forever in the sagas of Staten Island. But there was another Commodore, and are they telling us? On that May morning in Manila Bay, it was the flagship of Commodore Dewey that turned her prow to the rising sun on the swell of the Eastern seas.

To have forgotten Dewey was a ghastly sin of omission. Let the punishment fit the crime. Blindfold the wretch, stand him up against the blank wall, and "You may fire when ready, Gridley."

The State sales tax was adopted as an emergency measure, but the Jefferson City beauticians are about to give it a permanent.

THE BONE-DRYAD OF INDIA.

Perhaps he will live in history as the Bone-Dryad of India. Perhaps he will verify the scriptural promise that the meek shall inherit the earth. Anyhow, Mahatma Gandhi, 100 pounds of asceticism, swings on irresistibly in his vast prohibition crusade. Six provinces have already partially embraced the creed of abstinence, and on Aug. 1, the Port of Bombay will be as wineless as a dusty gourd. The plan of campaign contemplates complete triumph in three years, when 350,000,000 people, one-sixth of the earth's population, shall have renounced liquor.

Here in America we used to think that Anti-Saloon League's G. H. Q. at Westerville, O., was manned by a staff of superb strategists. And as commander-in-chief of the fighting forces, the late Wayne Wheeler seemed a composite of Napoleon's resourcefulness, Lee's audacity, Grant's grim tenacity. On the far frontiers, the McBrides, Dinwiddies and many others blasted lingering outlawry with detonating dials, and in the guerrilla warfare on the Missouri border, Brother Shupp did well.

But the Anti-Saloon League was an Anti-Saloon Legion, magnificently munitioned, opulently rationed, and with the mightiest war chest since Darius. Without disparaging its crusade against the Demon Rum, its martial pageant is as an episode to an epic when compared with Gandhi's solitary, unweaponed march through India—the one-man show of the ages.

"The people hunger because their superiors consume too many taxes." That was written 2500 years ago by Lao-tse in "The Canon of Reason and Virtue." The same grievance was filed by the burdened and oppressed when the Soldan of Byzantium was laughing in the sun. The democracies of the West stagger under the same yoke. India has paid many a king's ransom in liquor and opium taxes. "Degrading taxation" is Gandhi's definition. Whatever embarrassment ensues to the state from the loss of revenue will be more than counter-balanced, he believes, by the dividends from "the greatest moral movement of the century." And a dry India, he hopes and believes, will expedite the return of prohibition in America.

The sunshine of prospective prohibition in America was eclipsed by the moonshine of legalized prohibition, a possible development which is even now disturbing India. It is something to be uneasy about, but it is only one item in prohibition's Pandora's box.

Peter Helmig, erstwhile proprietor of the Black Forest Biergarten down on the Gravois, has gone back to Germany to live because of false rumors in St. Louis that he is pro-Nazi. You'd better be now, brother!

CRACK-UP OF THE GREAT AIRPLANE SALE FUROR.

The Case for Private Enterprise

Assumptions underlying policy of continued pump-priming are invalid, says economist; denies that era of expansion is ended when consumptive needs of the people are so far from satisfied, or that private enterprise has demonstrated inability to carry on; but little of our "recovery expenditures" represent an investment, he adds.

From an Address by Harold G. Moulton, President of the Brookings Institution; Reprinted from Vital Speeches.

SOME of the basic economic issues which underlie and permeate present-day discussions of public policy center on the assumption that the recession of 1937 was caused by a reduction of Government expenditures; that the expansion era is definitely ended in the United States, and that the system of private enterprise has demonstrated its inability to promote further economic progress.

The view that an increase in disbursements of money income is equivalent to, or will be accompanied by, an expansion of national well-being has been widely held in recent years. It underlies the short-week, high-wage philosophy and it has been the guiding principle in many of the Government's recovery and reform measures. The fallacy underlying such programs is simply that they do not increase the volume of goods and services available for human consumption. The disbursement of public funds may, indeed, prove an impetus to business revival. But to the degree that other policies prevent an expansion of production, the real national objective is defeated.

The business reaction which began in the spring of 1937 is widely believed to have been caused by the substantial reduction of Government outlays in preceding months. Such a conclusion is quite unwarranted. It is derived from an analysis of only a part of the national income. What is important from the standpoint of market purchasing power is, obviously, total money income, and not merely that portion of the money income which is derived from Government disbursements.

During the period under consideration, the total purchasing power was in fact rapidly expanding. The curtailment of Government expenditures was much more than counterbalanced by the increasing disbursements through private enterprises. If the conclusion that the expansion of 1936 and 1937 was checked by tapering off of Government expenditures, the increase of tax receipts and the gradual reduction of the deficit were true, then one would have to conclude that it will be impossible ever to eliminate Government deficits.

It is now argued that, inasmuch as Government deficits serve to build up national assets, they involve no financial dangers. Public investment is simply taking the place of private investment.

The validity of this conception may be readily tested by analyzing the character of Government disbursements. The latest estimate of total expenditures for 1939, is about $9,600,000,000. Interest, veterans' pensions, national defense and civil departments and agencies account for $3,360,000,000; outlays for relief and agricultural aid aggregate $3,340,000,000, and public works and aids to home owners $1,555,000,000. The balance of about $1,300,000,000 is for social security and miscellaneous outlays.

The interest and pension obligations, we may readily agree, are hardly assets. Expenditures for relief and agricultural aid do not result in an increase in tangible wealth; indeed, the latter represents rewards for restricting output. Expenditures for the civil departments, however essential from the standpoint of public welfare, clearly do not

No Time for Speeches

From the Kansas City Star.

IT came about so quietly that many people still fail to realize that Missouri has been cut off from Federal old-age assistance funds. No Federal money has been spent for the purpose in Missouri since last December. The January checks were paid entirely out of the State Treasury and February checks have not as yet been written. The 75,000 persons on old-age assistance and the thousands waiting for admission have an immediate interest in the proceedings of the State Legislature. Until the Legislature comes out with a workable law, one that meets Federal requirements, nobody will know what to expect.

The chances for full-size regular checks jumped up with the strong stand of the Missouri Senate last week. Three-fourths of the Senate lined up solidly with Senator Allen McReynolds of Carthage for prompt action and less talk.

But the persons who depend on the checks still have to wait on it. If they find anything wrong with it, they are obligated to raise the question. That kind of honest difference of opinion should not take up much time in this clear-cut situation.

The danger is in political ballyhoo. Strangely, too, this is a situation that doesn't seem to offer much opportunity for political noise and vote catching. The favorite political weapon in recent years has been spending; but there is no way to spend more money on old-age assistance unless you have the money to spend. More money would mean more taxes and the legislators are agreed that higher taxes would be political dynamite.

Naturally, any member of the Legislature would like to be known as the friend of the people on old-age assistance. Their best friends will be those who settle on a good, acceptable plan as soon as possible.

The Senate has acted promptly. The same kind of procedure in the House should give Missouri a workable law that will meet Federal requirements and the needs of the State. It shouldn't take much more time. The people in suspense over social security are not likely to applaud political speeches.

THE REFORMERS PASS.

From the Kansas City Journal.

LIKE William J. Bryan, Clarence True Wilson, who is dead at 86, had firm convictions as to how his fellow-citizens should comport themselves. The enforcement of his ideas through legislative enactment became his professional concern.

Bryan did not live to realize his defeat. Dr. Wilson did. He fought valiantly for prohibition, and after its enactment, he fought for its preservation. The scope of his defeat is measured by the fact that even Kansas now permits the sale of beer and thinks little of it.

Intemperance still carries its evils, but the country has learned that the Bryans and the Wilsons had the wrong approach. No free country can be clamped into a moralistic straitjacket. Reform must be deeper seated than an entry on the legislative calendar. Because his career unintentionally emphasized that fact, Dr. Wilson was of value to his generation.

How Franco-Hitler-Mussolini Pact Would Affect Britain and France

Three-Nation Axis Would Give Dictators Tremendous Advantage in Mediterranean—Speculation Over Portugal's Course.

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Persistent reports that Spanish Insurgent leader Franco will meet with Hitler and Mussolini in Italy in the near future are something really big for Britain and France to worry about. An alliance of the three, if anything more than purely defensive, would be a matter of greater moment than almost anything else which could eventuate.

Mussolini's territorial demands on France, which are causing so much perturbation, recede in importance before the Spanish situation, for the side which has the full support of strategically situated Spain will have a big advantage. Raising up out of the sea as it does at the narrow gateway to the Mediterranean and possessing numerous naval bases, Spain might even be the key to success in any general conflict.

A Magnified Gibraltar for the Axis. Franco on numerous occasions has declared emphatically that he would allow no nation to tamper with the sovereignty or territorial integrity of Spain. Paris and London have been hoping this meant he would avoid political entanglements with the Rome-Berlin axis, but the phrasing of his statements would preclude an alliance. It will take Spain long, of course, to recover from the effects of the civil war, which has disrupted the entire country. However, for Germany and Italy in effect to have the use of Spain and its waters as a base for military and naval operations would be a tremendous asset. It would be a tremendous asset. Gibraltar, magnified many times. This is doubly true, because it would mean that France would be surrounded on three sides by the Rome-Berlin-Madrid axis. And after all, Spain is a big country, with a population of some 30,000,000, more to mention colonies, and with minerals which both Germany and Italy need badly. These include copper, iron, lead, manganese and tungsten.

Speculation Over Portugal. There is much speculation regarding what line will be taken by Portugal, which fits into the coast of Spain like a sausage-shaped section of a jig-saw puzzle. Portugal is little, but under the circumstances important. During the World War it was a republic of Portugal, friendly with the Allies. Now it has a corporative state plan—a sort of military-civilian dictatorship. Throughout the Spanish revolt it has supported Franco, maintaining that it couldn't afford to have a Communist government set up next door—a contingency which it expected if the loyalists won. It would be a strange departure from tradition, however, if Portugal should desert England and join with the totalitarian forces. Portugal is Britain's oldest ally—the alliance dating back to 1373. In the past wherever England has been, there would you find its little friend, who was exceedingly proud of its affiliation.

6 LAKE STATES FIGHT WATER DIVERSION BILL

Attorneys-General to Ask for Hearing Before House Committee.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21.—Attorneys-General of six Great Lakes states agreed yesterday to seek a hearing before the House Rivers and Harbors Committee in a joint fight against a bill to increase the amount of water Chicago diverts from Lake Michigan.

R. F. Malia of Milwaukee, secretary of the Great Lakes Harbor Association, said the state would show that increased diversion would damage lake commerce, waterfront buildings, and shorelines, and affect municipal water supplies.

In this way, the states hope to end a 20-year dispute by demanding "a definite vote against" the bill, introduced by Congressman Claude V. Parsons of Illinois, which seeks to permit Chicago to divert 5000 cubic feet of water per second instead of the limit of 1500 cubic feet set by the Supreme Court.

"The Parsons bill is a deliberate and flagrant attempt to upset the protection given the Great Lakes by the Supreme Court," Malia told the Attorneys-General. Attending the conference were Attorneys-General John E. Martin of Wisconsin, Thomas Read of Michigan and Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio, Assistant Attorney-General Timothy Cohan of New York, Henry F. Sweeney, chairman of the Wayne County (Mich.) Port and Harbor Commission, Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, George B. Sowers, chairman of the Cleveland Port and Harbor Commission, and Herbert H. Naujoks of Chicago, special assistant to the Attorneys-General.

Malia said the conference received telegrams from Attorneys-General J. A. A. Burnquist of Minnesota and Claude T. Reno of Pennsylvania, supporting opposition to the Parsons bill.

Mississippi Valley groups want to use lake waters, which they have no right for the purposes of advancing artificial navigation on the Mississippi and "with the hidden motive that by so doing they can prevent the execution and ratification of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway," Malia asserted. "Up to this time we have held these two questions to be separate, but Congressmen Parsons and his allies have now demonstrated their opposition to the seaway and we shall fight them on both it and the Chicago diversion," he said.

GIFTS TOTAL $47,000 IN BOY SCOUT DRIVE

44 Pct. Pledged in Campaign for $108,000.—Clayton Pastor Speaks.

Contributions totaling $24,317 were reported yesterday at a meeting of workers in the Boy Scout financial campaign at Hotel De Soto. These increased the total to $47,411, about 44 per cent of the goal of $108,035.

Total pledges obtained so far are as follows: Advance Gifts Division, $30,000; Downtown West, $2721; North, $2700; County, $2485; South, $2000; Special Groups, $1841; Central, $1155; National Firms, $507. The principal speaker was the Dr. B. F. Hall, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Clayton, who described Boy Scout work as "an antidote for foreignisms."

Giving his observations on a visit to Europe, Dr. Hall told of seeing Italian boys of Boy Scout age marching with packs and wooden guns and of seeing expressions of despair and unrest on faces of German and Spanish boys.

In Rome, he related, he saw a group of black-shirted boys shoulder elderly Italian women into a gutter. Another group, he said, forced old persons to give up their table in a restaurant. "One can't lock a door and keep out a disease germ," he said. "Likewise you can't lock the door of a nation with triple steel fortifications and keep out infiltration of alien ideas. We must combat them with ideas greater, stronger and truer. We must build a citizenship that prefers to be free than to be fed, if the alternative arises. We need boys trained in Scout tradition."

The next report meeting will be held Thursday noon.

MADI GRAS AT NEW ORLEANS; THOUSANDS JOIN FUN-MAKING

Pre-Lent Carnival in Climax of Songs, Dancing, Parading That Ends at Midnight.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21.—Masks and merriment held court today as this city swirled into its carnival climax under sway of Rex, the Mardi Gras mythical master of misrule.

Tens of thousands were out early for the songs, dancing, parading and gay camaraderie that lasts until midnight, beginning of Lent. "Mardi Gras," which means "fat Tuesday," was made a legal holiday days ago. It brings to an end the carnival whirl which began Jan. 6. Society folk did most of the early season honors, and the general populace and visitors joined the revelry in parades of the last few days.

Today they are all in the fun-making. Restaurants and taprooms prop open the doors, or take them entirely off the hinges.

PROUD'HON, HARTLEY PAINTINGS AT MUSEUM

French Portrait of Napoleonic Period and Modern American Landscape Acquired.

The City Art Museum announced yesterday the purchase of two paintings, a portrait by the early nineteenth century French artist, Pierre Paul Proudhon, and a landscape by Marsden Hartley, contemporary American.

The Hartley paintings, showing a waterfall in sculptural detail, was exhibited in the recent American show at the museum. It was purchased with income from the Eliza McMillan Fund and will hang permanently in Gallery 31 with other recent American acquisitions.

The Proudhon acquisition, which was bought for $2400 from the Knoedler Galleries in New York, is a portrait of Arnold de Beaufort, a young naturalist of the Napoleonic period. It has a soft and delicate touch. It was painted in 1818 when Proudhon, who had become a court painter of note, was 60 years old. It has been placed in Gallery 2, with the later nineteenth century French paintings.

MISSOURI HOUSE GROUP DELAYS PENSION ACTION

Committee Holds Hearing on Bills, Passage of Which Is Necessary to Get Federal Aid for Aged.

OBJECTIONS MADE TO 'DICTATION'

Measure Will Be Taken Up Again Tomorrow Afternoon—Proposal to Pay State's Part Made.

By CURTIS A. BETTS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—The House Social Security Committee last night further delayed the day when old age pensioners in Missouri will receive their February checks, now three weeks overdue. The committee failed to take action on three Senate bills on the passage of which the Federal Social Security Board has made contingent the allotment of Federal aid.

After a public hearing and a long executive session, the committee adjourned to meet tomorrow afternoon for further consideration of the bills. It announced it would invite members of the State and Federal commissions and also Ed McDonald, regional director for the Federal board, to appear at that time. William R. Smart of Kansas City, chairman of the committee, said he thought that "some members of old age pension groups" would appear in opposition to the bills.

to the House to authorize the State Auditor to send out pension checks covered by the State's portion of the payment. This would amount to an average of $9 per pensioner.

The resolution was introduced today by Representative W. R. Smart of Kansas City, chairman of the committee. He asked that it be laid over until tomorrow because there was some question as to whether the Federal board would match the full allotment made by the State when the Federal funds were released. A resolution offered by Representative Fred O. McGuire of Grundy County, calling on the House to meet each Saturday and Sunday until the Social Security bills are passed, was adopted by the House without debate.

Hearings Discussion.
In a discussion of the bills at last night's hearing, they were explained by Senator Allen McReynolds of Carthage, who handled them in the Senate for the Social Security Commission. There were objections from a number of House members to "dictation by the Federal board."

McReynolds told the committee that the Federal Board had notified the State Commission in unmistakable terms that it would make no allotment to the State until the bills were passed. He said it appeared that Missouri could meet the Federal board's requirements and receive Federal aid, or that it could ignore the Federal regulations and be prepared to finance the pension program alone. These requirements, incorporated in the bills, are that the need of the applicant shall be the determining factor in the granting of a pension, and that the State Board shall have final authority in passing on the eligibility of applicants and the amount of pensions, without the right of appeal to the courts by the applicant on the merits of the application.

Federal Attitude.
Representative Morris E. Osborn of Shelby County, who said there was nothing the State could do except meet the Federal requirements, asked McReynolds if there were not a possibility that the Federal board would approve the Missouri law even if it permitted appeals to the courts. McReynolds replied that the correspondence between State and Federal agencies indicated the Federal board would insist on elimination of the right of appeal.

Representative C. P. Turley of Carter County said the State had only two paths that it could follow:
"We can get on one horse, ride along with the Federal Government and do as it says in order to get the funds," he said, "or we can get on another horse, ride in the opposite direction, pass our own law without asking the Federal Government to co-operate."

Objects to "Coercion."
Though a number of Representatives voiced objections to "Federal coercion," the principal objection was G. Furd Hays of Christian County. He advocated a rejection of the Federal demands, saying "I don't think the Federal Government has a right to stick its nose in here."

Hays said he was opposed to State administration of the law with all its investigations of applicants.
"Let's turn this over to the county courts," he said, "and put the old people on the rolls. Let them get the millions Haworth (State Administrator George L. Haworth) and all his crew have been spending."

Representative Albert T. Parrish of Springfield ventured the opinion that as long as the State was receiving Federal aid, it could expect the Federal Government to insist on having a voice in the way the money is expended.

COST-OF-PRODUCTION FARM BILL ARGUED

House Committee Witness Says Agriculture Should Have Income Guarantee.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Edward E. Kennedy of Kankakee, Ill., a Farmers' Union leader, said today the Government should extend to agriculture the principles of minimum income control exercised in such industrial legislation as the wage-hour act.

Kennedy, first witness at House Agriculture Committee hearings on general farm legislation, asserted that agriculture had been "left out" when the Government decided to exercise these regulatory powers. Declaring the best solution would be to guarantee farmers the cost of production for that part of their produce consumed domestically, the witness endorsed a cost-of-production bill introduced by 17 Senators and 13 Representatives.

Kennedy said he was president of the National Agriculture Conference and represented units of the Farmers' Union in 10 states.

Statement by Chairman.
Chairman Jones (D., Tex.), opening hearings on proposed substitutes for the current farm program, expressed the opinion that no satisfactory alternative had been presented.
He referred to price-fixing, cost-of-production and domestic allotment theories as well as to demands for repeal of compulsory control features of the present law.

"But we are going to go into all of the plans and make haste slowly," Jones said. "Every other farm program we've passed has been under whip and spur. Every member of the committee is anxious to improve the program in every possible way."
Jones said it was generally agreed that only minor changes would be made in this year's program. Any major changes approved for a long-range solution of the farm problem will not become effective before 1940, he said.

The committee invited proponents of the cost-of-production plan to testify first. This program would authorize Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to guarantee farmers a fixed price for that part of their crops consumed domestically. It would apply only to commodities whose value exceeded $10,000,000 annually and would license processors and other dealers in farm products.

Opposed by Wallace.
Wallace vigorously opposed a similar bill in the Senate, asserting that while its aim was commendable, the methods proposed to achieve it were "unworkable." The Senate Agriculture Committee has not acted on the plan.

The House committee, although more immediately concerned with a 16,000,000-bale cotton surplus than with the general farm program, has decided to let the Senate take the lead in finding a solution.
More than 11,000,000 bales are in the hands of the Government because of loans which Representative Hope (Rep.), Kansas, senior Republican of the House committee, described as "ruinously high."

Hope, speaking on a bill to extend the Commodity Credit Corporation for two years, told the House will not become effective before 1940, he said.

NEW BELGIAN CABINET FORMED; NO LIBERAL PARTY MEMBER

Premier Pierlot's Government Made Up of Catholics, Socialists and Men Outside Parliament.

By the Associated Press.
BRUSSELS, Feb. 21.—Senator Hubert Pierlot announced today the formation of a new Cabinet to replace the Government of Paul Henri Spaak, which resigned Feb. 9.

The new Premier is a Catholic. His government is composed of Catholics, Socialists and men from outside Parliament. It does not include any member of the Liberal party which forced Spaak's resignation in a controversy over the appointment of Dr. Adrian Martens, war-time German sympathizer, to the Flemish Academy.

Spaak, who was Belgium's first Socialist Premier and Foreign Minister, was not included in the new Cabinet. Eugene Soudan, Socialist former Minister of Justice, was named to the foreign ministry while Lieutenant-General Henri Dens was retained as Defense Minister.

BALKAN NATIONS TALK OF AID TO BULGARIA
Bucharest Conference Consider Giving It Aegean Outlet to Stiffen Entente.
By the Associated Press.
BUCHAREST, Feb. 21.—The foreign ministers of the Balkan nations discussed offering economic advantages to Bulgaria today, that as a five-nation group, the entente could act in international affairs with the effectiveness of a great power.
The Foreign Ministers of Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey are meeting here to consider questions of mutual interest including territorial revision and German political and economic penetration in Eastern Europe.
The desirability of winning Bulgaria into the Balkan fold was conceded on all sides, and members of the delegations hinted that some method might be worked out to give Bulgaria use of a port on the Aegean Sea, so its shipping would not be bottled up by the Black Sea.
Such a concession, it was estimated, would be achieved through a bilateral negotiation between Bulgaria and Greece.
A trade deal to enable Bulgaria to find Balkan markets more readily appeared to be the first form to be tried.
While the entente took a friendly attitude against making territorial concessions to Bulgaria now, conference was optimistic over prospect of ultimately drawing Bulgaria into its political system.

BALKAN NATIONS TALK OF AID TO BULGARIA FOR NEGROES URGED

Bucharest Conference Considers Giving It Aegean Outlet to Stiffen Entente.

By the Associated Press.
BUCHAREST, Feb. 21.—The four small nations of the Balkan entente discussed offering economic advantages to Bulgaria today—so that as a five-nation group the entente could act in international affairs with the effectiveness of a great power.

The Foreign Ministers of Rumania, Yugo-Slavia, Greece and Turkey are meeting here to consider questions of mutual interest, including territorial revision and the German political and economic penetration in Eastern Europe. The desirability of winning Bulgaria into the Balkan fold was discussed on all sides, and members of the conferring delegations hinted that some method might be worked out to give Bulgaria use of a port on the Aegean Sea, so its shipping would not be bottled up on the Black Sea.

S. R. Williams of Urban League Proposes Legislation to Bar Race Discrimination.

A State law compelling unions to accept as members Negro workers in the fields in which jurisdiction is claimed is suggested in the annual report of Sidney R. Williams, industrial secretary of the Urban League, a United Charities social service agency for Negroes. The report was made public today.

The report also proposes six other State laws for a program to improve the industrial and social life of the Negro. One, for a measure modeled after the Wagner Act, has been urged by many labor organizations in Missouri.

Another proposal is a bill providing dismissal for any worker on a public job who strikes or threatens to strike because workers of another race, color or religion have been hired for the same project. Williams says such a law is in effect in Pennsylvania.

Other measures would forbid a public utility to discriminate against applicant for any class of work because of their race, religion or politics, establish minimum wages and maximum hours for domestic and personal servants, enable the State to participate in the Federal mass housing program and forbid repossession, without legal adjustment, of property for which more than half the purchase price has been paid.

Violation of the proposed law requiring admission of Negroes to unions would be punished, Williams suggests, by withholding from the offending union its benefits under the State labor relations law he advocates.

The Urban League has frequently complained to American Federation of Labor craft unions here that skilled Negro workmen have been deprived of opportunities for work because the unions have refused to accept them as members.

"When it is remembered that Negroes are a submerged group within the great working class, the nature of their problem assumes devastating proportions," Williams writes. "One of the puzzling, human-interest aspects of this problem is that the people who control these unions are, themselves, something of a minority group—the Irish-Catholics. Their conduct in this respect is amazing when it is remembered how they have suffered from oppression in their native land."

BAR COMMITTEE AND FENN TAKE EXCEPTION TO REPORT

Former Thinks Lawyer Should Be Disbarred; Latter Alleges Commissioner Was Prejudiced.

Exceptions to the report of a Special Commissioner who recommended that Bert F. Fenn, St. Louis attorney, be suspended from the practice of law for one year for professional misconduct, were filed with the St. Louis Court of Appeals today both by Fenn and by the State Bar Committee.

Fenn contended that Special Commissioner Charles E. Rendlen of Hannibal erred in his findings and was influenced by "passion and prejudice." R. Walton Chubb and William W. Crowds, counsel for the Bar Committee, asserted in their exceptions that Fenn should be permanently disbarred.

Commissioner Rendlen on Feb. 6 held that Fenn was guilty of the unethical practice of soliciting claims and lawsuits personally and by "runners," or lay agents. Lead miners testified that Fenn instructed them as to the testimony they should give.

The Court of Appeals will consider the case Feb. 23.

KIDNAPER-MURDERER LOSES ANOTHER PLEA

Transfer for Rehearing Denied Robert Kenyon, 21, Under Death Sentence.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 21.—Division No. 2 of the Missouri Supreme Court, which last Aug. 17 affirmed the conviction and death sentence of Robert Kenyon, 21-year-old Howell County farmer, for the kidnapping and murder of Dr. J. C. B. Davis of Willow Springs in January, 1937, overruled today a motion for transfer of Kenyon's case to the court en banc for a new hearing.

An earlier motion by counsel for Kenyon requesting Division No. 2 to grant a rehearing, was denied by the division last Dec. 20.

The action today apparently exhausts legal moves by counsel in the Supreme Court to avert Kenyon's execution, unless the court en banc, made up of the seven judges, could be persuaded to direct Division No. 2 to transfer the case. This would be unusual.

Resentencing Held Up.
The Division No. 2 decision of last August, directed the case be remanded to Oregon County Circuit Court, where Kenyon was tried on a charge of venue from Howell County, for resentencing of Kenyon to death in the lethal gas chamber in the penitentiary here. Kenyon originally was sentenced to be hanged, as he was tried and convicted before lethal gas was substituted for hanging for legal executions in Missouri.

Return of the case to the lower court, for resentencing only, has been held up pending disposition of the various motions.

Court attaches recently have received reports that Kenyon, who has been confined in the Butler County jail at Poplar Bluff, has been failing in health rapidly.

Confessed Kidnaping.
Dr. Davis, 67, a physician and chairman of the Howell County Democratic Committee, was kidnapped in Willow Springs on Jan. 26, 1937, by Kenyon, who lived on a farm near Willow Springs. Dr. Davis was shot to death the same day near Pomona, Howell County,

Kansas City Resident Shows Flicker of Perception at Times.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Maude Harris, 55-year-old wife of a mining engineer, completed yesterday a year-long period in which she has lain in a coma, pierced only by an occasional flicker of perception.

Physicians, keenly interested in the case because of the coma's long duration, said they have detected little change in Mrs. Harris' condition recently. Even her weight has not varied. She suffered a cerebral stroke last year.

Los Angeles' China City Burns.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—China City, Los Angeles' famous tourist center, was destroyed by fire yesterday with a loss of $200,000 and police began an investigation to determine if the fire was incendiary. Nine cafes, tourist stores, art shops and theater buildings burned despite the efforts of 200 firemen from 12 companies. The new settlement was constructed when Los Angeles' old Chinatown was torn down to make way for the Union Railway Terminal.

Chain Store Tax Held Invalid.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 21.—A State chain store tax was declared unconstitutional by the Dauphin County Court yesterday. Adopted to raise $1,500,000 a year for school teacher salary increases, the tax ranged from $1 to $500 according to the number of units in a chain. It applied to chain theaters and gasoline stations as well as to other forms of merchandising.

By the Associated Press.

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 21.—Following discovery of a child's bones on a Texas ranch, authorities checked again today the story of two convicts that they had killed a father and his two sons seven years ago.

More than two years ago Claud and Elmer Tenison, brothers serving 18 years each in Oregon penitentiary for bank robbery, told prison authorities they had killed J. M. Cone near Perryton, Tex., because he failed to pay $1000 he had promised them for killing his two sons, J. M. Cone Jr., 10 years old, and Vernon Cone, 6.

Authorities discounted the story at that time. Sheriff J. S. Talley of Perryton wrote Oregon prison officials that the Tenisons "are only trying to get moving from there with the hope of getting a chance to escape."

Saturday, however, the bones of a child were found 25 miles southeast of Perryton, at about the place where the Tenisons told authorities the Cone children had been buried. Discovery of the bones caused Perryton officials to reopen the investigation.

State Parole Board members Gerald Mason and Cecil Edwards questioned the brothers yesterday and said they repeated their story of the three killings.

The two said Cone agreed to pay them $1000 to kill his two sons because he didn't want to be encumbered with them when he "ran off with another woman."

The convicts said the father paid them only $250 so Claud Tenison shot him. They said each shot one child and buried them 20 or 25 miles southeast of Perryton.

Elmer Tenison, 42, told Mason and Edwards, "I tried to forget it and I couldn't, so I told the story and feel better . . . I'll have to go back to Texas to face it sooner or later, so it might as well be now."

Edwards and Mason said they were inclined to believe the men.

At Perryton, Sheriff J. S. Talley said, "I think they may be the bones of one of the Cone children, but I don't know."

He sent the bones to State police headquarters at Austin for analysis.

DUST STORM IN PENNSYLVANIA

Visibility of Plane Pilots Cut in 30 Mile Wide Belt.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 21.—Air pilots reported a heavy dust storm swept high over Pennsylvania and Ohio yesterday greatly reducing visibility at some points.

The Pennsylvania Central Air Lines said that at Abcon, O., visibility was cut to less than half a mile. Lloyd Sykes, meteorologist of the air lines, estimated the storm was confined to a belt 80 to 120 miles wide. He said it was the first in this vicinity in three years.

ISN'T IT WONDERFUL! THE NEW 1940 RINSO GIVES EVEN MORE SUDS NOW. IN OUR HARD WATER. AND SEE HOW IT CHASES GREASE FROM DISHES

New 1940 Rinso here a year ahead of time... with new "suds-booster" — at no extra cost to you!

THE New 1940 Rinso gives richer suds that get rid of grease from dishes in a jiffy. Just give dishes a quick soaking . . . then rinse with the dish mop . . . then rinse and they're ready to dry sparkling clean! Pots and pans are just as easy to do. Put them to soak in hot Rinso suds—and forget about them! After dinner you'll find they only need a quick wash, the same as the dishes. And because the New 1940 Rinso gives more suds it's even more economical. Try it!

Woman Rescues Sightless Man From Gas-Filled Room.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21. — An 80-year-old blind woman rescued her 77-year-old brother, also sightless, from a gas-filled room yesterday.

Anna Ciernon heard her brother, Francis Patrick, fall in another room. Walking the path she knew so well—from her kitchen to his room—she found him beside a disconnected gas stove over which he apparently had stumbled. He was revived in a hospital.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you get something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft, "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Brain for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Brain isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, toasted, nutritious cereal. And it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, day after day. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

MILD STOCK PRICE FALL COTTON ROLLS

Sliding Leaders of Previous Day Manage to Regain Fractions of Their Losses
—Some Minor Losses in List.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Mild recoveries today dotted a slow-going stock market ticker tape, but many issues lacked even slight rising tendencies.

Although fractional gains predominated at the close, numerous stocks were unchanged to off a triple. Transfers were 465,330 shares.

Tension over foreign affairs appeared to have lessened somewhat, but speculative forces were again inclined to make any large wagers on potential overseas happenings.

In the same time, opinions were heard in boardrooms that recent war talk may have been much louder than really was justified.

Part of the day's apathy was attributed to the fact traders wished to keep commitments small over the holiday tomorrow when markets will be closed in commemoration of Washington's birthday.

Among the Gainers.

Stocks in London pointed higher in response to the prospect of rearmament spending through borrowing rather than by new taxation. Other securities markets abroad were uneven.

On the home front support was accorded shares of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Consolidated Edison, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Standard Oil of N. J. and Celanese.

Selective forward leanings were attributed in the bond department to commodities. Wheat at Chicago was off 1/4 of a cent a bushel to 1/2, and corn unchanged to 1/4. In late transactions cotton was ahead 5 cents a bale to down as much.

Near mid-afternoon sterling and the French franc were narrow, unchanged in terms of the dollar. The former was quoted at 4.68 1/2, and the latter at 2.64 1/2-16 cents.

News of the Day.

International Harvester, on the "big board," backed away. It had to contend with the company's higher stock sales, however, was higher.

Stock sales amounted to 900 shares, compared with 782 yesterday.

In the afternoon prices were mainly unchanged with Midwest Refining fraction higher.

WHEAT AND RYE CHICAGO TRADE

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—In a typical pre-holiday market, wheat prices bobbed up and down with definite direction today and closed very little, if any, changed from yesterday.

Dealings were in small lots, but buying and hedging making up the bulk of the trade.

Wheat closed 1/2 off to 1/4 higher, but lower, and rye, unchanged to 1/4 higher.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.

THE softest job in all journalism is that of Virginia Gayda, the official commentator of the Journal of Italy in Rome, who enjoys the rank and emoluments of first interpreter and commentator in the Fascist press, but doesn't have to do a lick of work at his job beyond whipping into popular journalism the ideas which are handed to him by the boss. Mussolini has made a public figure and lower-case dignitary of a hack who otherwise might never have risen above the mass of crummy moochers, typical of Italian journalism, who sit around marble tables in sloppy overcoats with grease on their collars, gnawing horse-meat sausage and chipping for their supper. They are, as a tribe, the most contemptible menials of the whole breed of Fascist parasites who live by the nod, for Italian journalism, when free, was opinionated and daring, and most of those who took service with the Duce sold their manhood for job security, pensions and other bribes. They were, in the main, the spiritless mediocrities, and such they remain under Fascism.

MUSSOLINI HIMSELF has taken the measure of their character in flat money of his own issue, naturally loathes them. He has a right to his contempt, for when he was a journalist himself, he fought authority, sneered in the face of poverty and risk and couldn't be bought. He knows their price, and he knows that, having sold out to him, they would sell out again to Balbo or any other promising rival who might come riding into Rome in a spirited pullman, as he himself did. He has the same opinion of those nominal Americans who publish Italian papers here in which Americanism is sold out to Fascism for cheap honors or pats on the back from a hand that any time may hold a knife.

A pseudo American who would betray his country to Mussolini for gauds to adorn his vanity would be likely to turn on him, too, should circumstances change. He has far greater respect for men who were beaten to death by his gangs, and men who have languished on Lipari for their principles than for party journalists who joined him for money that he created by telling the printer to turn the crank.

GAYDA, NOT only writes to orders but accepts the paltry celebrity in which it is necessary to invest him for reasons of diplomatic evasion. He writes with no special skill or other distinction, but with effrontery and efficient obedience to instructions from the boss or Ciano, and is thrown into prominence in Italy and abroad only because it is desired to present the informal insults of the Fascist Government in the guise of independent observations by an individual. In return for the use of his name Gayda is well kept, and, in social matters, is permitted to march ahead of some of the lowest orders of Fascist membership, including, of course, certain judges of the courts and trackmen from Guadalupe.

The Nazi have nothing quite like him, and the Russians, who did have a Gayda, found it necessary to liquidate theirs last year, whether by shooting or rustication to Siberia one does not know.

Case Records of a Psychologist

By Dr. George W. Crane of Northwestern University

CASE L-127: Stella A., aged 24, is a very conscientious worker. "She was the best maid I ever had," said the lady for whom she had worked several years. She did her work well. But she seldom talked to anybody and never went out at nights. She didn't have a date in all the five years she was employed by me.

"She studied the Bible constantly and came from a very religious home. Then we had visitors for a week, among whom was a college man. The next day Stella claimed that this boy had attacked her during the night. Her accusation was entirely false, however, and now she says she doesn't know what made her say such things. My husband wants me to discharge her, but she is such a fine worker that I wonder if you think I could keep her, Dr. Crane?"

DIAGNOSIS: It is not at all unusual for women of this type to become enamored of some male in their environment. Then they begin to dream that he is equally interested in them. And they may finally make public accusations against such men, even though the latter may never have met these accusers before. All medical students are warned against this danger before they leave school, and are cautioned to have a nurse in attendance not so much for the benefit of their patients as for insurance against false charges.

Many wives attend the movies for the sake of romance. Our movies are very inferior to what they could be, but psychologically they have offered an emotional outlet. Stella was starved for affection and a little romance. By going to movies and to church social affairs, and by joining the Compliment Club, she became much more socialized.

Fear

By Elsie Robinson

YOU'VE heard it said that "the root of all evil is the love of money." It isn't so. The root of all evil is fear. Go to the bottom of any problem—yours or the other fellow's, or the world's—and you'll find just one thing, the same thing—fear.

Why are people jealous? They're afraid. Afraid someone will show them up... beat them to the goal. Why are people selfish? They're afraid. Afraid they won't get their share... their share of power... or possessions... or love... or comfort... or safety... or whatever they covet at the moment. So they dare not let go and think of the other fellow. They must concentrate on self... service self... guard self... hover endlessly over their selves like buzzards circling over carion.

Why are people bullies? They're afraid. Afraid someone will show them up... beat them to the goal. Why are people crooked and cruel? Why are people unfaithful... disloyal... dishonest? In every case the answer is the same—because they're afraid.

There's your own and only worst enemy... fear. Every mean thing you have ever done... every "smartie or show-off" thing... every greedy and grabby thing... every petty and pesty thing... has sprung from one common root—fear.

Want to spend an interesting half hour? A half hour that would cost you $25 if you went to a psychiatrist? Then take a pad of paper, or better yet, write an honest record of every disreputable, detestable or dishonest act you've committed within the last week... and trace each act to its source. You won't have to trace far. They all came from fear.

Scarlet Fever Cases Not Easy To Recognize

Possible for Disease to Be Overlooked, Especially in Adults.

By Logan Clendening, M.D.

I SPOKE yesterday of the cases of whooping cough which are overlooked in adults. In discussing this matter with a health officer of a large city, I was made aware of the fact that we also have a fairly widespread epidemic of scarlet fever and here, too, it is quite possible that especially in adults the disease may be overlooked and a contagious carrier allowed to go abroad spreading the disease.

I remember a fellow medical officer of mine, during the World War, was commanded by the Surgeon-General's office to go up to a small encampment where it was reported there had been an epidemic of scarlet fever. When he arrived there, the doctor in charge of the camp said that he had a very peculiar condition which he thought was due to milk. He had a great many cases of sore throat, with a reddish eruption on the body. As soon as my friend had seen a few of the cases he took the doctor aside and said, "Doctor, you have an epidemic of scarlet fever."

Scarlet fever has been so rare within the last 10 years that a great many people have grown to maturity without being exposed to it. This does not mean, however, that they are immune. Quite on the contrary, they are as liable to get it as a small child who has never been exposed. They may catch the disease in a mild form and feel well enough to walk around, and by this means they indubitably will infect a certain number of the people they meet.

The streptococcal milk-borne sore throat does, indeed, look a great deal like scarlet fever. Adults for some reason are more likely to get streptococcal sore throat than children. In an epidemic reported in Iowa last year there were 135 adults affected and 60 children. The symptoms occur about three days following the drinking of milk or cream containing an infecting streptococcus. The onset, particularly in adults, is sudden. There is diarrhea, vomiting, chills and backache of short duration. These last about one day. The sore throat is more extreme than scarlet fever and in adults swallowing is almost impossible. Saliva and other secretions drool from the corners of the mouth. About four days after the initial symptoms there is a rash all over the body; reddish, more intense on the back and the abdomen, gradually covering, in most cases, the entire skin.

Scarlet fever is so much like this that it is quite impossible to differentiate the conditions by appearance alone. Scarlet fever starts suddenly, usually with vomiting, followed by a sore throat and a general rash over the body.

The special way to differentiate, which should be required in all suspicious cases nowadays, is what is called the Dick test. This consists of injecting a minute amount of scarlet fever toxin into the skin. If the red skin blanches around the area of injection, it can be said quite definitely that it is scarlet fever.

Symphony Orchestra of Women

New Organization, Conducted by Edith Gordon, to Give First Concert on Feb. 27

By Virginia Irwin

AFTER being slowly and gently coaxed along for more than a year, the St. Louis Women's Symphony Orchestra is about to bloom into its first concert. And of whatever praise this unusual organization draws on its debut on Feb. 27 at the Soldan High School Auditorium, a large part of it should go to a personable young lady named Edith Gordon, conductor and untiring nursemaid to the orchestra.

Since a year ago last November, Edith, whose blond curls and blue eyes make her look so young as to be distinctly incapable of such a heavyweight venture, has been holding auditions, selecting her material, rehearsing and in general building the St. Louis Women's Symphony Orchestra up to public-appearance material.

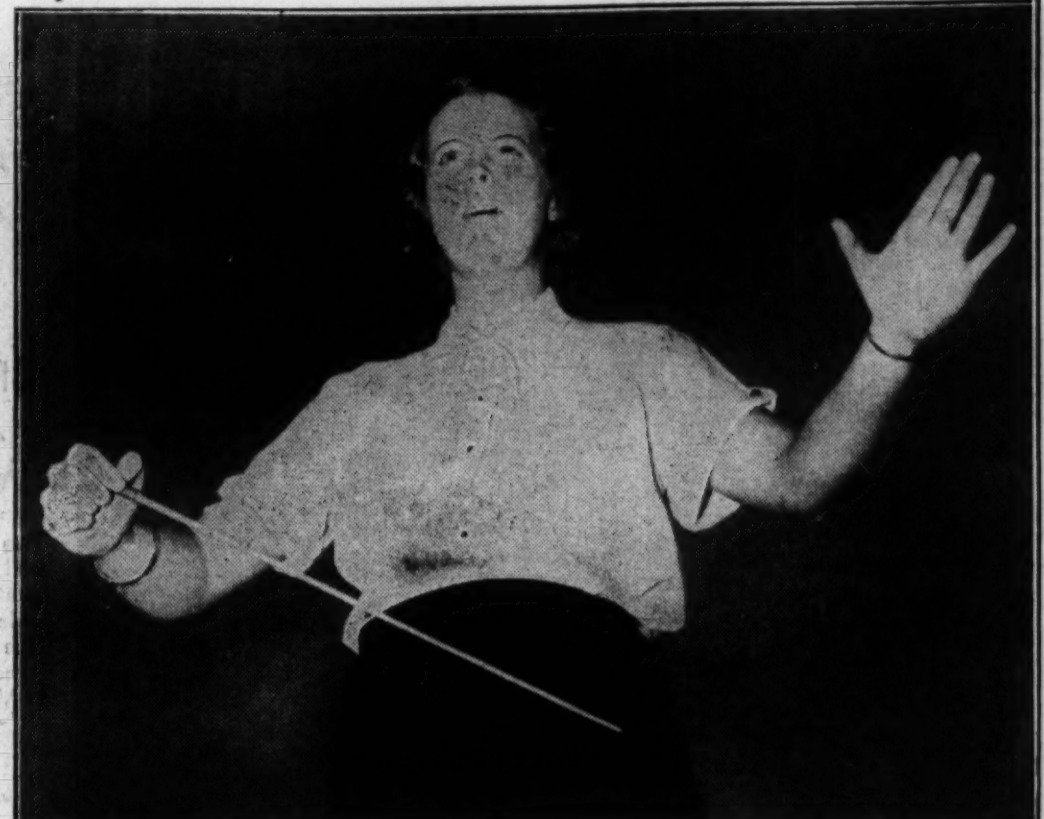

"Nobody knows how much work it has been and still is," Edith says of her undertaking, which she admits was not her own idea. Suggested to her by several gentlemen in the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, the idea of a women's symphony has its precedents in the Women's Symphony Orchestra of New York, conducted by Miss Antonio Brice, and the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago, conducted by Miss Ebba Sundstrom. It is Edith Gordon's "almost-too-much-to-be-hoped-for" wish that the success of these two organizations can be duplicated in St. Louis, but Edith is making no boasts. In fact, she is almost too modest in talking about the as yet uncertain future of this newest contribution to St. Louis' musical life.

"If all of the girls with whom I am working were professionals, it would be an entirely different matter," she explained. "But out of the several hundred young women we auditioned, we are confident that the 65 we have selected are quite capable of giving creditable performances. And there is satisfaction in knowing that these 65 are being given a chance to do something with their abilities. Perhaps only a few of them will ever have a chance to play with a really big symphony, and the women's symphony furnishes the encouragement and recognition that the rest of them as artists need."

The average age of the girls who make up the women's symphony is around 20, and a great many of them are high school students. Edith, herself, looks little older than most of her girls and watching her conduct the orchestra on its debut should be not the least pleasant part of the program.

A native of St. Louis, Edith Gordon has in her own words "poked her finger in every musical pie in the city." She was introduced to the piano at the age of two, when she had to be propped up on two cigar boxes and a Webster's Unabridged to reach the keyboard. In high school she won "two or three contests" and "a couple of gold medals" (she's rather shy about this contest and medal business). At Washington University she played for the campus shows and the glee clubs, and then organized her own professional unit which earned Edith not medals but cash.

St. Louis hotel society will no doubt remember the Gordon Trio, with Edith as pianist, which played at the Chase Hotel for four years, the Statler Hotel four years, and on so easily, and with so little experience, Edith confided, "You'd be surprised how quickly I learned to present, in addition to her numerous other activities, chief of which is the women's symphony. Edith is playing nightly piano solos in the main dining room of the Mayfair Hotel.

FOR years, Edith has been general pianist for the Municipal Opera, playing for all rehearsals, and has several times played in the pit with the Municipal Opera Orchestra when two pianos were needed. For three years she played for all rehearsals for the Symphony chorus and last year was accompanist for Martinelli and several other Metropolitan stars who appeared in two grand opera concerts. She has been active in the junior division auditions for the annual division of young artists and once conducted the Municipal Opera Orchestra for a few minutes, which she says is the high spot so far in her life.

Playing rehearsals for Vladimir Golschmann, conductor of the St. Louis Symphony, and acquaintances with Municipal Opera conductors, Edith says, have helped her a great deal in conducting the Women's Symphony. And certainly to the eyes of your faithful correspondent she holds her place on the podium with the poise of a veteran.

Asked how she managed 65 women were chosen: Overture, "Russian and Ludmilla" — — — — — Glinka Symphony No. 8, B Minor (Unfinished) — — — — — Schubert 1 Allegro moderato 2 Andante con moto "Waltz of the Flowers" from the Nutcracker Suite — Tchaikowsky "Andante Cantabile" for Strings, from Quartet Op. 11 Tchaikowsky

Symphonic Poem: "Les Preludes" List But whatever reception she and her spanking new Women's Symphony receive on their debut, Edith hopes it won't be as sad as the story told about the famous prima donna who happened to be in bad voice on the night of a concert. This anonymous leading lady, reading a newspaper notice of her performance looked up from her breakfast in the hotel dining room to see the critic who had written the review passing her table. "Sir," she sputtered, pointing to the cruel review, "I can't believe my eyes."

"Madam," he replied, "I couldn't believe my ears!" "And that," laughed Edith, "is the story I think of every time I begin to feel a little bit elated over the thing. Let's hope though that the critics say what a marvellous story to me when I had my trio. 'Why you play just like me.' That would be just about the highest compliment they could pay us."

ON BROADWAY x x By Walter Winchell

The New York Scene. The First Nights: Lew Leslie, who has often snagged some powerful talents out of Harlem, has named Lenox avenue on a dark night when recruiting for his new "Blackbirds." Except for some greased lightning hoofers and a radiant septa songstress called Lena Horne, the show, the inspectors thought, was almost as so-so as the week's other arrivals was "Little Foxes," written by the Lilian Hellman we all rooted for when she did "The Children's Hour." La Bankhead was assigned to the heavier throat-catchings in Dixie's nastier families. The court found for the plaintiff and awarded horroars to the show. The H-Trip's Mr. Watts tagged it La Bankhead's top performance. . . . The Sun's dramapraiser, Richard Lockridge, claims that he is beginning to hear producers rattling in their trunks for American flags. He fears a general cashing-in along Broadway on Americanism in the theater. He is praying that it will not go overboard and expresses it nicely by saying: "It is fine to raise the American flag over Broadway, so long as we do not raise it over the box office."

The Front Pages: Jack Kirkland is having fun with the critics, adverting how badly they guessed on "Tobacco Road," his 10-year-old hit. But the papers get money for printing Jack's taunts, so who is winning? . . . Pierre Van Paasen, one of the more entertaining of the globe-trotting reporters, has made a bum of the theory that correspondents' memoirs are no longer best sellers. His "Days of Our Years" has marketed 136,000 copies in a fortnight. . . . And one rooster will risk a guess that the "Times" G. E. R. Geyde will reach a big public with his eye-witness book on what the brigand countries are doing to decent folk. His record, just out, is called "Betrayal in Central Europe." . . . Why don't Pegler and Hugh Johnson toss for Harold's "Licks" scalp? No point in both of them getting winded in the same fight. . . . Critic J. Donald Adams writes that Ernest Hemingway's attitude toward life "remains basically adolescent." . . . Another mark of adolescence is parroting those cracks of Hemingway.

The Story Tellers: President Roosevelt's denial that he called France our frontier apparently caught the New Yorker in the midst of a harsh editorial about it. So they went ahead with the rap. "Just in case the matter ever comes up again. . . . Your Life prints a piece describing marriage as a constant wrangle for power, and another about how the colleges blunder in their teachings on how to have wedded bliss. The items appear in the mag's departments on 'Love' . . . Elmer Davis, usually a mild enough guy with his type-writer, asks a lot of pointed questions in a New Republic article called 'Is England Worth Fighting For?' . . . A house organ craves this desk containing a verse which makes the rules of grammar understandable. The trouble is you can get punchier sentences ignoring the whole thing. . . . Fact Digest relates that Canton, China, imports a million dollars worth of old U. S. newspapers to be used to wrap up parcels. . . . We must remember this about certain rags next time we make the mistake of believing they were printed to be read. . . . Life finally achieved its ambition to cover a first night when its cameras were admitted to 'Stars in Your Eyes.'"

The Magic Lanterns: The filmed version of the WPA clicker "One-third of a nation" elicited whoopee from the press. Aside from this side of the continent, it had some able stage troopers in support of Sylvia Sidney and Lief Ericson—very helpful, too. . . . The luxurious item of the week was "Made for Each Other," a competent job from the Selznick yards. Miss Lombard heroines it prettily and makes herself worthy of James Stewart. . . . The Ritz Bros. and their literary brothers, feeling charitably inclined toward Alexandre Dumas, hopped up his "The Three Musketeers" with melody and low comedy, which of course makes no difference to Alex by this time. . . . Now that Clare Boothe has come clean that her Southern heroine, Cindy Lou of "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," is a symbol of Fascism, she must make a report on "Scarlett O'Hara."

Must be running out of yarns showing the cruelties of the Czar's Cossacks. Now they're showing the Cossacks being picked on in "Cossacks in Exile."

South Makes Grand Slam by Squeeze Play

But Maneuver Was Not, as He Supposed, a True Trump Squeeze.

By Ely Culbertson

"DEAR MR. CULBERTSON: A few nights ago in a social game I held the following hand: North, dealer. North-South vulnerable. NORTH: A53 A54 A1093 J93 WEST: 1052 875 800 76542 SOUTH: KQJ109876 Q2 Q3 AK

"As South, I reached a final grand slam contract in spades. East had overcalled my partner's opening diamond bid with one heart. West led the 10 of hearts. I could count 12 tricks, but it was certain that the heart finesse would not work and since there was no possible finesse in diamonds and clubs I was forced to rely on a squeeze. I have been looking for a trump squeeze for a long time, but up to this hand I had not been able to recognize the chance of making one. In this hand, however, I could see that if East held the red king and the club queen I could squeeze him, and this I proceeded to do as follows:

"The first heart trick was won with the ace, and then six rounds of trumps were taken. North discarded the heart four and the diamond three and king of clubs and led the king of spades and discarded the diamond 10 from dummy. This squeezed East, and he elected to part with the jack of diamonds. Therefore the diamond deuce was led to the ace, and the heart jack was ruffed with the queen of spades, the diamond queen providing the fulfilling trick."

"I believe this hand furnished me with the biggest thrill I have had for some time. "J. B. D., Alabama."

The hand was well played and the declarer is to be congratulated for his vision. The squeeze that was used, however, was not a true trump squeeze. It was merely a three suit squeeze on East. Declarer's last trump had no value in so far as setting up a card in dummy was concerned. Its only value (considered I admit) was to give a try to the South hand at the proper time. A true trump squeeze involves a slightly different type of ending. Suppose the king of clubs had been in the dummy and that the final end position had been as follows:

With this setup, it will be noted, East does not have to guard three suits. He can depend on West for a club stopper. Nevertheless East is subject to a trump squeeze. Declarer cashes the spade king and lets go a club. Declarer also can let go a club. Declarer cashes the ace and king of clubs, and what is East to do? He follows to the first round, but must bite the dust on the second. The play is in dummy. If East lets the heart nine declarer ruffs the heart four, returns to the diamond ace, and cashes the heart jack. If East lets go the diamond jack, dummy's diamond ace is cashed. Declarer then ruffs a heart and cashes his own diamond queen for the fulfilling trick. This is a true trump squeeze.

However, a case by any other name smells just as sweet. Quick Seasoning. You will find a large salt shaker with a mixture of three parts salt to one part pepper invaluable right close to the kitchen range. Meats and vegetables can be seasoned quickly and the serving of food takes less time.

"NO REFLECTION ON HEDY"
(From the Hollywood Reporter.)
"Real story behind the shelving of 'I Take This Woman' is Hedy Lamarr's inability to portray a very modern young woman. Seems her slumbrous, exotic quality makes her character unbelievable, no matter how much her lines are rewritten. No reflection on Hedy, it's merely fact."

This little item certainly throws us out of gear. We've misjudged Hollywood all these years. We had the notion that they really didn't care whether we believed a character, so long as we stood in line at the box-office.

Who would have suspected that artistic integrity at Culver City had reached such flaming intensity, that they want to make Hedy Lamarr something other than "slumbrous" and "exotic."

Apparently they just wrote and rewrote her lines, and then, day after day, when they went to see the rushes, they couldn't "believe" Hedy was anybody but "Hedy." Finally, in the name of art, they shelved "I Take This Woman," and will now find something else for Hedy to do. Some bright young man probably will make a name for himself by suddenly suggesting, out of a clear sky, that Hedy do a picture called "I Take This Slumbrous Exotic Woman." And Hedy can just be herself—her old-fashioned, slumbrous, exotic self, and not "a very modern young woman."

LOST AND FOUND.
Symbol of his love so true,
My darling sent a jeweled ring.
Well, being me, what did I do
But lose the thing?

He sent me later a rosy wreath,
A book of verse, a Persian shawl.
Go on and throw it in my teeth:
I lost them all.

There was that sweet Llewellyn pup;
There was that string of Canton jade.
Where are they now, say you?

Give up?
Lost, swiped or strayed.
I don't know why, but things just slip,
Perversely, through these fingers numb.

I lose my temper, lose my grip.
Just dumb.
Why can't I shake this losing streak—
One thing I can't lose, though I try?

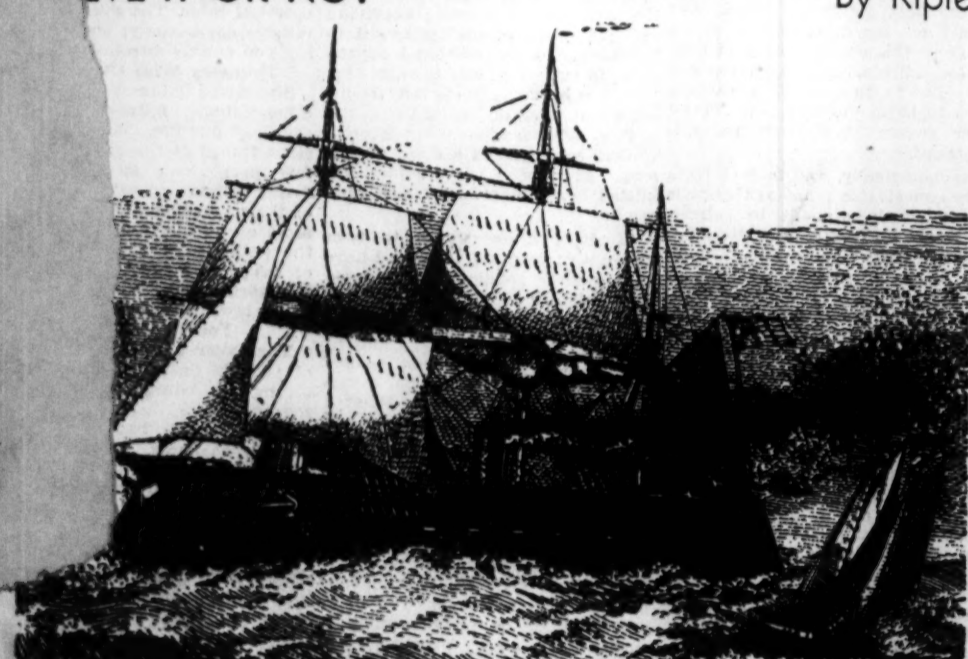

It's getting worse. Why, just last week
I lost that guy. —Jitterjane.

The most active and successful seagoing ironclad was not Old Ironsides, but the vessel characteristically named the New Ironsides. It was built in 1862, was in action 19 times, a total of 68 hours and 48 minutes. It fired 4361 rounds, was hit by enemy shells 250 times, but emerged unscathed. It was destroyed by fire in the League Island Channel, Philadelphia, in 1866.

Hazen S. Pingree (1840-1901) was elected Mayor of Detroit in 1889. He served four Mayoral terms, and was elected Governor of Michigan in 1896. For some time he continued to hold both offices at the same time, until the Supreme Court of the State declared the city office vacant.

RESTLESS

Under Dr. Armstrong's Guidance, Angela Takes Charge of a Nursery for the Children of Women Who Work—She Receives a Letter From Jamieson.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

It was Dr. Armstrong's baby clinic day just as it had been before when Angela had gone to see him. Tired mothers with fretful babies in their arms lined his waiting room. But there was an efficient looking, uniformed nurse to assist him now.

Uncertain of her reception, Angela gave her name and took her place among those waiting to see him. She had not realized how busy he was.

"Maybe it will be better for me to come back some other time," she said to the nurse. "It wasn't awfully important."

Miss Walton said, "Just a moment, Miss Heath, I'll ask him." She returned from the consultation room to say cheerfully, "He will see you now if you'll follow me."

She led the way into an operating room, which Angela had not seen before. She remembered that Aunt Anna had written of Daniel's new equipment that day several months ago when her father had gone down to have his blood pressure checked.

He had known there was something wrong then, but he had not told her and she had been so absorbed in her love for Philip that she had skimmed over the letter, hitting only the high places.

Alone in this sterile, shining room she gazed at the glass case with its rows of instruments feeling a new respect for the man who used them. Daniel had not discussed his work with her since that day almost a year ago when she had gone to the country with him. What an idiot she had been! Slapping his face and walking home.

The door opened and Daniel entered and for the first time in her life she really looked at him. She could not have told before what color his eyes were. Now she saw that they were gray. Funny she had not noticed either how good looking he was.

Not handsome but well-built and so immaculate. His hair was thick and unruly but he had a straight nose and the strongest looking mouth and chin she had ever seen. The kind of features which might have been chiseled out of granite, Angela decided, taking the hand he extended to her.

"Well, Angela, how did your father get along at the store today? Was he very tired?"

"No, he felt better than I expected him to. Of course he was only there a couple of hours and I made him rest as soon as he got home."

"That's good. He won't be needing you much longer."

"That's just it, Dan. He won't and what am I going to do?"

"I don't see why not. You've proved yourself a good nurse. Capable of taking orders."

He spoke unemotionally, but the little compliment brought tears to her eyes.

"That's the first kind thing you've ever said to me."

Daniel looked embarrassed. "I have never intentionally been unkind to anyone. Certainly not to you. But I haven't time for the idle gallantry of the average man. My life is packed with too much reality."

"I know and I'm not going to take up any more of your time. But I'll help you with your nursery, Dan. I'd love to help."

"I'll stop in tonight and we'll discuss it then," he promised.

Baked Stuffed Onions
A treat for the onion lover. Remove skins from six large onions and parboil in salted water for 30 minutes. Turn upside down to cool and then remove part of the centers. Fill with equal parts of minced ham, chopped nuts, soft bread crumbs and minced onion pulp. Season with salt, paprika and minced parsley and add enough melted butter to moisten. Fill the onions and sprinkle tops with buttered crumbs. Place in a buttered casserole and bake in the oven slowly until the onions are tender.

ON SMALL SQUARES OF TOAST.
A square of crisp broiled bacon on a square of toast and garnished with a rolled anchovy is also a tasty combination to whet the appetite.

Of course, the ever popular caviar spread on dainty squares of toast always has appeal. Smoked salmon sliced to fit the squares is also a favorite.

Enliven Lenten Menus With Lavish Use of Cheese

If you want to have people talking about you with envious admiration, just try your ingenuity on appetizing Lenten menus.

Here's a chance to develop your "cheese-talent" for cheese belongs to Lent just as much as baked beans belong to Boston supper. And Pevely provides four delicious kinds of dairy cheese with which you can give zest as well as nourishment to a multitude of recipes.

There's Pevely Quaker Cheese, a cream cheese with a fine distinctive flavor. Also Pevely Cottage Cheese—Creamed Cottage Cheese, and Old Fashioned Cottage Cheese, all of them rich and delicious, ready for you fresh from the dairy.

For inspiration here are some recipes that will enliven your Lenten menus and start you on new cheese dishes. If you can't be in Bermuda this winter, then let onions bring Bermuda here to you.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Secretary of War Woodring has disclosed today, to a Senate Military Committee, that the limitation off the number of planes that might be acquired by the army under the addition's defense program. Writing to Chairman (Dem.), Texas, Woodring said the army would be limited to the number of planes under the bill as the House. "The enactment of $842,000,000 (Expansion Bill) which would increase in airplane strength 6,000, would be a major step toward the cause of national defense, and the War Department recommends favorable consideration thereof," Woodring wrote this connection, however, the committee is to the fact that in the procurement of a large number of airplanes there may be reductions in costs which will permit the purchase of a larger number of planes than the bill authorizes within the amount of money in the War Department program for the purchase of airplanes in accordance with the recommendations of the President's Congress. "It is therefore suggested that the committee give consideration to the removal of the limit on the number of airplanes so that a number of planes may be purchased than now contemplated by the Department program, should factors mentioned above so such action will be to the benefit of the nation's defense, and will result in economy." The army expansion bill passed the House, calls for acquisition of 30,000 new airplanes to supplement the existing armament.

Predicts War With Japan
The House, meanwhile, has predicted that the United States would go to war with Japan the Philippines Islands. Representative Shannon, Missouri, of the House Navy Committee, opposing a $5,000,000 base bill, asserted: "Obviously the event of a war in the Philippines would be a disaster rather than an asset. The Philippines are directly in the way of the Japanese march toward the tropics and sooner or later the United States will find itself at war with Japan over the possession of these rich but defenseless islands. The record of Japan in Asia and later in China, further convinces me that a nine-power pact, no solemn or national pledge of any kind will be kept by Japan in its determination to establish Japanese supremacy in the East."

Shannon added also that he proposed to follow the same on an island near America. Government intended at Guam. United States would lose in massing its naval forces, such a threat to its safety would tell them to go to some place."

Backers of Guam Base
Advocates of establishing a plane base on the island of predicted today the continued proposal would win House approval, but they conceded would be close. "I think we'll win all said Chairman Vinson, Georgia, of the Naval Committee, who told the House yesterday the strategic position of the island in the Western Pacific of inestimable value as a defense base." Representative Mott (Republican), declared that "Guam is the bill but the vote close."
